Welcome Back

The school year once again began with the annual Welcome Back dance. Not only is this the first dance of the year, but it is the first time for the students to assemble on a non-educational basis. It is time for new cliques to be formed and old ones to be resurrected, a time to make some friends and lose some. Most importantly, it is a time for hyper-active teenagers to release tension by jumping up and down to loud, pounding music.

Some of the musical favorites present were so memorable that we can't even remember any of them. The only one we can recall was everyone's favorite crawl-around-on-the-floor tune, "Shout!", which they play at every dance.

All in all, the dance was, of course, a huge success. For those of you underclassmen who felt too inhibited to attend, I hope you realize that it is an important annual event and your attendance is crucial to getting the year off to a good social start (especially for those of you who also skipped the Class Night dance as an eighth-grader). If you didn't go, however, don't dwell on your losses, simply look at these pictures and imagine yourself in them.

What's In

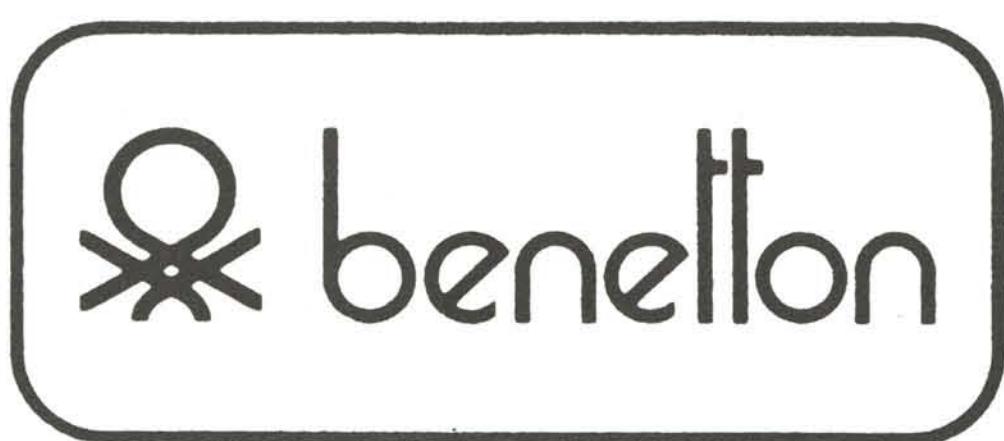

Jeans this year, as every year, were the staple of everyone's wardrobe. Guess? was still the brand to be worn. The hottest looks were acid washed and totally destroyed (faded and ripped) styles. Once again girls were wearing faded (bleached), rolled up cut offs while the guys wore their jeans rolled up right around the ankles.

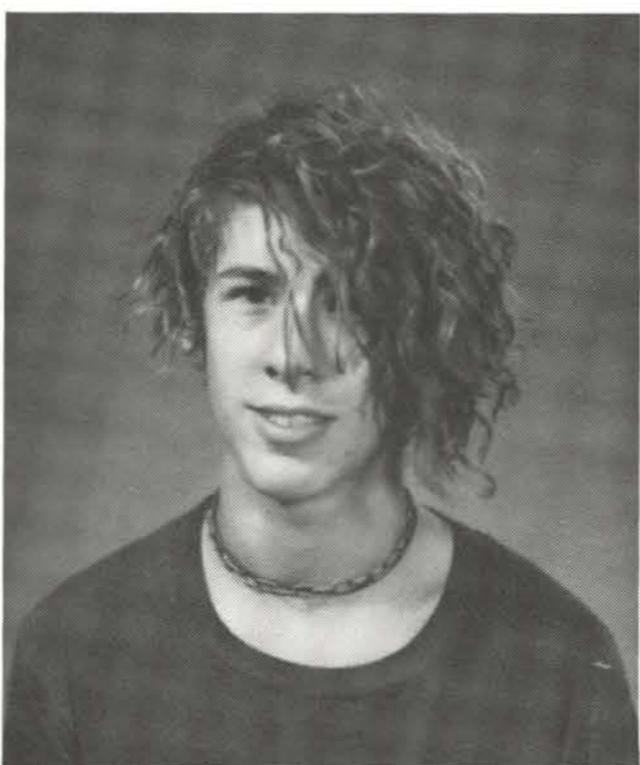

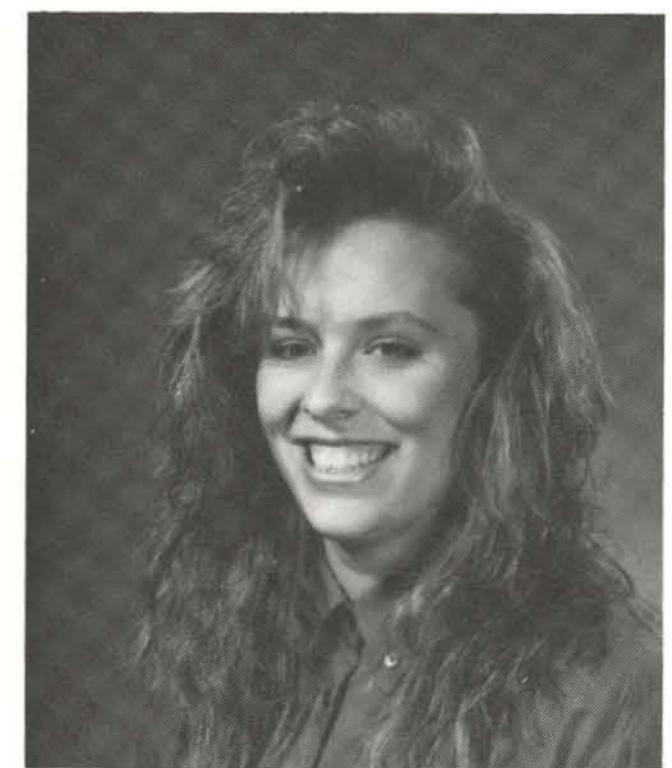

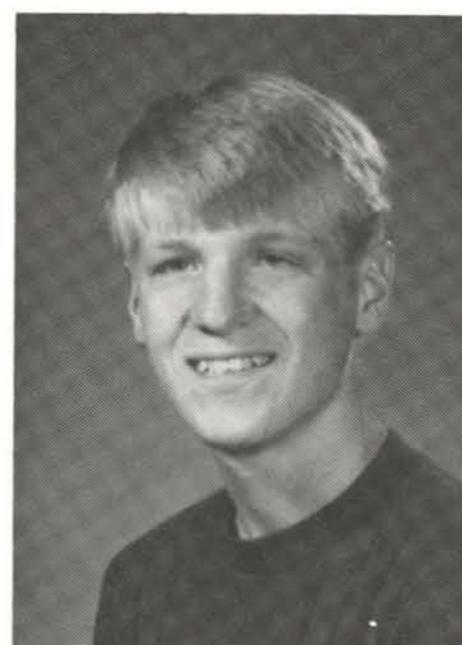

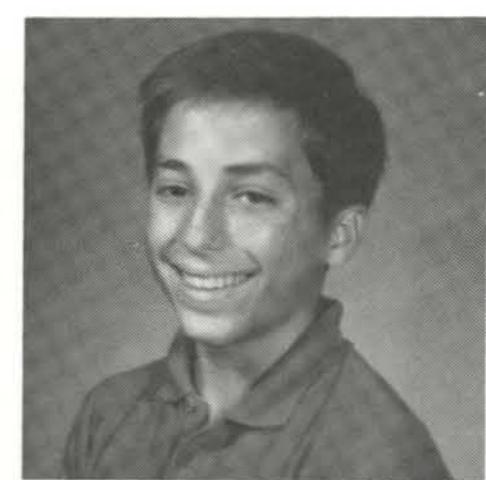

Once again the influence of the sixties was seen around U-High! Psychedelic colors, tie-dyed clothing and of course the mini skirt. The mini was by far the favorite look for girls. It seemed like everyone was wearing them. The styles ranged from micro-minis, tight black minis, denim (in a variety of colors), to the bubble skirt.

MADE IN ITALY

Hairstyles are a good way for people to express themselves. At U-High we have just about every style imaginable. We think that these pictures speak for themselves.

Homecoming Victory

There was more to Homecoming Week than dances, streamers, and fun. A football game on Friday night brought together old friends and kept them on the edge of their seats for most of the game.

The Homecoming Game pitted the Pioneers in a must-win situation against the Prairie Central Hawks, the Number 4 team in 3A. The Hawks brought an impressive (7-0) record into the game which only enhanced the excitement of the competition.

That excitement started when the Hawks, in a fourth down situation, thought they would be punting the ball to U-High. They didn't think it would be a scoring opportunity, but when Brian Beverly bobbled the punt the Hawks scooped it up and rambled into the endzone. Beverly received the ball on the ensuing kickoff and ran 78 yards for a U-High touchdown; he scored again on U-High's next possession to make it 12-6.

The score remained the same until late in the second quarter with time running out. Barry Creviston hit a leaping Brad Armstrong for a scoring strike of 22 yards, which made a half-time score of 18-7.

At halftime the 1987 Homecoming Court members were recognized and the King and Queen were announced as Jeremy Donaldson and Staley File.

The second half read much the same as the first, with U-High winning the game, 24-14.

The Week

University High kicked off the 1987 Homecoming Week with fun activities that included everyone.

Homecoming Week began with Green and Gold Day, where everyone dressed in some shade or shades of those colors.

The Sidewalk Cafe took place on Tuesday, with each class showing off their creative energies by decorating certain hallways. The Juniors took first place in the judging; the Freshmen came in second, followed by the Seniors, with Sophomores coming in fourth.

Upper classmen tried to show their superiority on Wednesday, which was also the night of the bonfire on the west field. Students sat together on the hillside and watched the fire after the late afternoon events, which included stuffing bags of donuts into sometimes unwilling mouths, guzzling bottles of pop down unwilling throats, and stuffing students into a student's car in an attempt to break some bizarre record, an event which made some of the participants inside the car look like characters out of "The Far Side."

The movie "Sixteen Candles" and a Three Stooges film were also enjoyed by many students after the bonfire.

Dress Up-Dress Down Day was held on Thursday, with those participating able to leave early for the pep assembly. A Pie in the Eye Contest was among the events, with no apparent winners.

Mardi Gras: Let The Good Times Roll

After the excitement of the Homecoming game, the U-High student body met the next night to take part in the Homecoming dance. The theme, Mardi Gras: Let The Good Times Roll, seemed to fit the festive mood, as students began to arrive. As the students arrived, the band, Aliby, started to play, and soon the lounge was swaying to familiar rock and roll tunes.

Soon the Homecoming court arrived, and it was time to crown the king and queen. The red carpet was rolled out, and the ceremony began. When everyone was in place, a hush went over the crowd. Soon a loud cheer arose as the crowns were lowered on the heads of Staley File and Jeremy Donaldson. After many pictures, and hugs, the couples made their way to the dance floor, and began the king and queen dance. Soon they were joined by their peers, and once again, everyone was laughing, and dancing, as the festivities went on.

The evening wore on, and the crowd began to thin, as the tired students gathered their coats and headed home. The evening was a festive one that few will never ever forget.

The crowd gathers as coronation begins.

Spirit Week

Spirit Week is considered a follow-up festivity to Homecoming and is something everyone looks forward to participating in.

Students were encouraged to show their school spirit on Green and Gold Day, which usually wraps up the entire week. Most people forgot to participate on Hat and Button Day, but they made it a point to get into Dress-Up Day. On this memorable day, the attire took us back to the 70's era. Remember Chris Yeagle's award-winning groovy get up? Near the end of the week was Dress Up as Your Favorite Faculty Member (and vice-versa). The prize for this went to senior parent/U-High math teacher Mr. Jerry Parsons for masquerading as his son Steve.

Friday was the pep assembly and the traditional male cheerleading competition in which the juniors took first place. The week was wrapped up with a dance Saturday night.

Wipe Out

This year, the annual Beach Bash took place in the ever-so-unique lounge. Students dressed up in wild beach-type attire like Jams shorts, flowered T's, thongs, swimsuits, cut-off sweats, half-shirts, shell earrings, long gold earrings, and even grass skirts . . . all on a cold snowy winter night.

The ever-so-flexible lounge was decorated in the typical beach mode: palm trees, sand, coconuts, and even salt water in the drinking fountains.

The DJ's played a wide variety of music, ranging from slow ballads to fast head-banging songs. Some of the songs present were "Get It On (Bang A Gong)" by the Power Station, "Looking For A New Love" by Grammy winner Jody Watley, "Oh Sheila" by Ready For The World, and the new one from Debbie Gibson "Out Of the Blue."

To add to the fun-loving beach bum atmosphere, the DJ's had colored lights that flashed on and off, periodically changing colors.

Of course all the students were quite pleased with themselves. It had been a long time since they'd had the chance to wear such revealing outfits while hopping up and down, drinking salt water, and having a great time for only a small amount of money. As the students were permitted to enter, Mrs. Lewis stamped their hands with a circled X. Mrs. Hoss was there to comment on everyone's "wear." All in all it was a very enjoyable evening for everyone present.

The dance is a success for Monica and Lisa.

Morp

This year, certain individuals decided to do away with the annual T.W.I.R.P. (the Woman is Required to Pay) dance and to compensate, scheduled a MORP dance. The idea was to have a dance that was the opposite of prom. Some of the themes for this dance were "Jack minus Jill equals fun at the dance," meaning that it is a dateless affair. Peter Pontius (alias Grandmaster Pete) was hired by Miss Scott to deejay, and he played a wide "variety" of extended Heavy Metal favorites. The students all came dressed in their sloppiest clothes, like torn shirts, torn shoes, torn shorts, and even torn hair. The dance lasted from 8 to 11, and all the students who chose to attend had an exceptionally wonderfully carefully playful evening.

Class Night 1988

Despite being held on a Thursday Class Night '88 was a roaring success. Incoming freshmen and outgoing seniors had a chance to meet at the dance, which was held the evening of May 19 from 6:30 to 10:30. But as with most dances at U-High, all who attended danced past 10:30.

The crowd packed the lounge which was decorated with colorful streamers hanging from the ceiling and climbing the pillars. And students, most dressed in their new class night outfits, danced to tunes disc jockeyed by Kevin Kilhoffer.

As always the freshman class sponsored the dance and ran the student store so the thirsty dancers were able to down Hawaiian Punch and munch on all kinds of cookies.

The dance wrapped up a fun evening of talent and song that will be remembered for a long time.

Senioritis

Graduation fever begins for the seniors in December, and by March most are bouncing off the walls in desperation. Others, however, are savoring their last few weeks at U-High, a place that has held for them some of the most important growing-up times of their lives, memories that can never be dampened by years to come.

Homecoming holds a special meaning for seniors. The next time they attend it will be a true homecoming for them. They realize the importance of this last homecoming as a high school student, and amid all the dances, parties, and fun there is a sense even in October that life will soon be very different for them.

Being a senior is a collection of moving portraits that can go in slow motion: getting the senior pictures taken, always at that last minute; ordering caps and gowns; and filling out a myriad of college applications. And during all of this — going to school in their spare time. Seniors are a busy group.

But they are not too busy to think about U-High and how the events inside its walls have shaped their lives, and will continue to shape them once they have left. They have anticipation of things to come, and although they will perhaps feel some nervousness at leaving something that has been a solid and reassuring part of their lives for the past four years, come May it will be time for them to finally test their wings and continue their flight.

We, the Class of 1988, would like to dedicate this senior section to Michael Barbas.

One of the highlights at the end of the year is the junior-senior prom. The annual dance was held April 23 at the Miller Park Pavillion from 9 p.m. to 12 a.m.

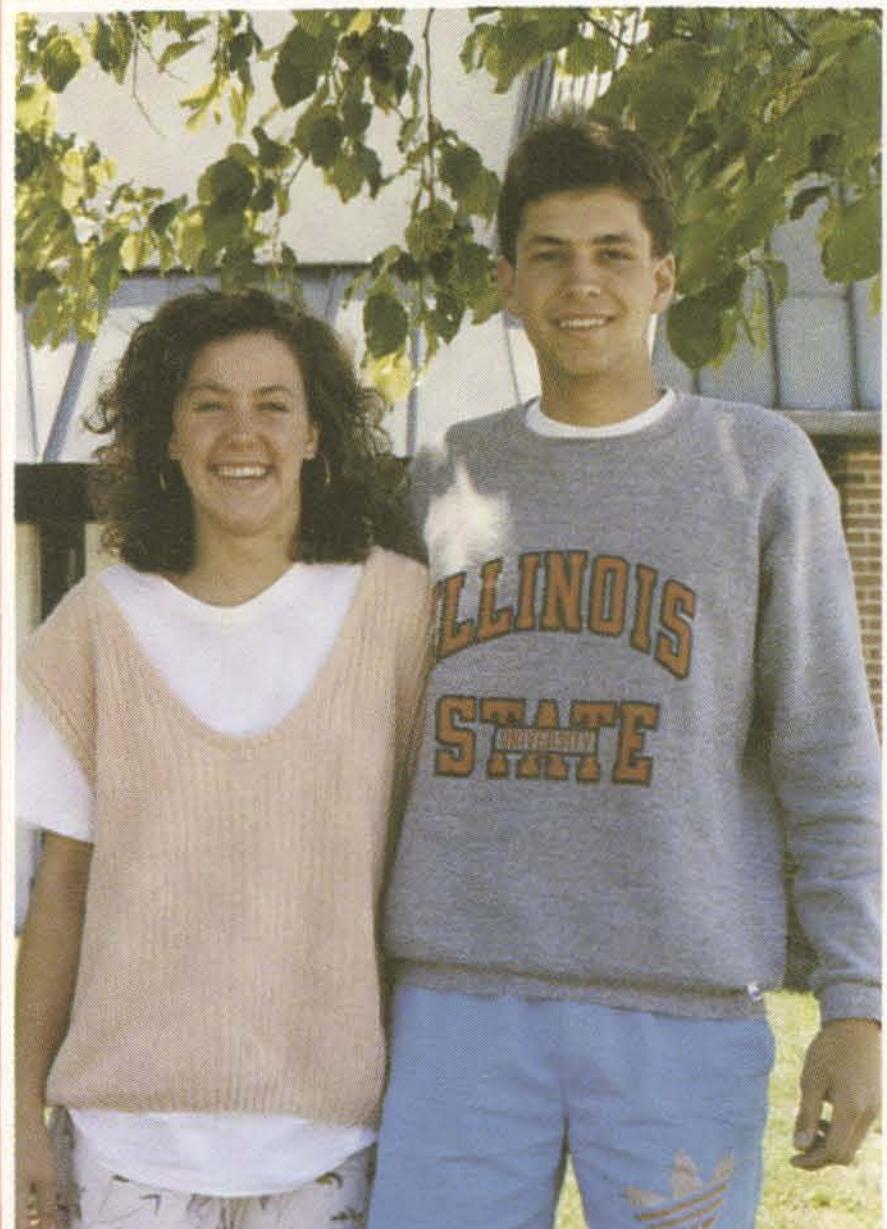

It was unusually cold that night, and many people found the walk to the front doors of the pavillion uncomfortable. However, the dance going on inside was much more enjoyable. The coronation of Josh Favus and Melanie Patterson as the Prom King and Queen was the highpoint of the evening.

All too soon, the dance was over but the night was just beginning. Many people were looking forward to the after-prom that was scheduled to begin at 1 a.m.

Class night or Thursday Night Live was once again a huge hit. The fact that it was held on a Thursday did not seem to matter as the whole school turned out for the fun.

The skits this year were T.V. shows with a narrative in the middle by Dora and Jan. Some of the most fun were The Geraldo Show, Pump you Up, Mike's Health Show, David Letterman, and of course Mtv. Will anyone ever forget Hope singing Jody Watly or Josh's dancing and singing to I Think I'm a Clone Now?

After all the fun of the skits the senior class all got on stage to sing the class song "Goodbye to Romance". The traditional stuff came next with the lamp of knowledge and of course the moving up of classes with the seniors leaving the auditorium for the last time and the incoming freshmen being brought in.

It was a fun but sad night for everyone and it's not likely to be forgotten.

After Prom

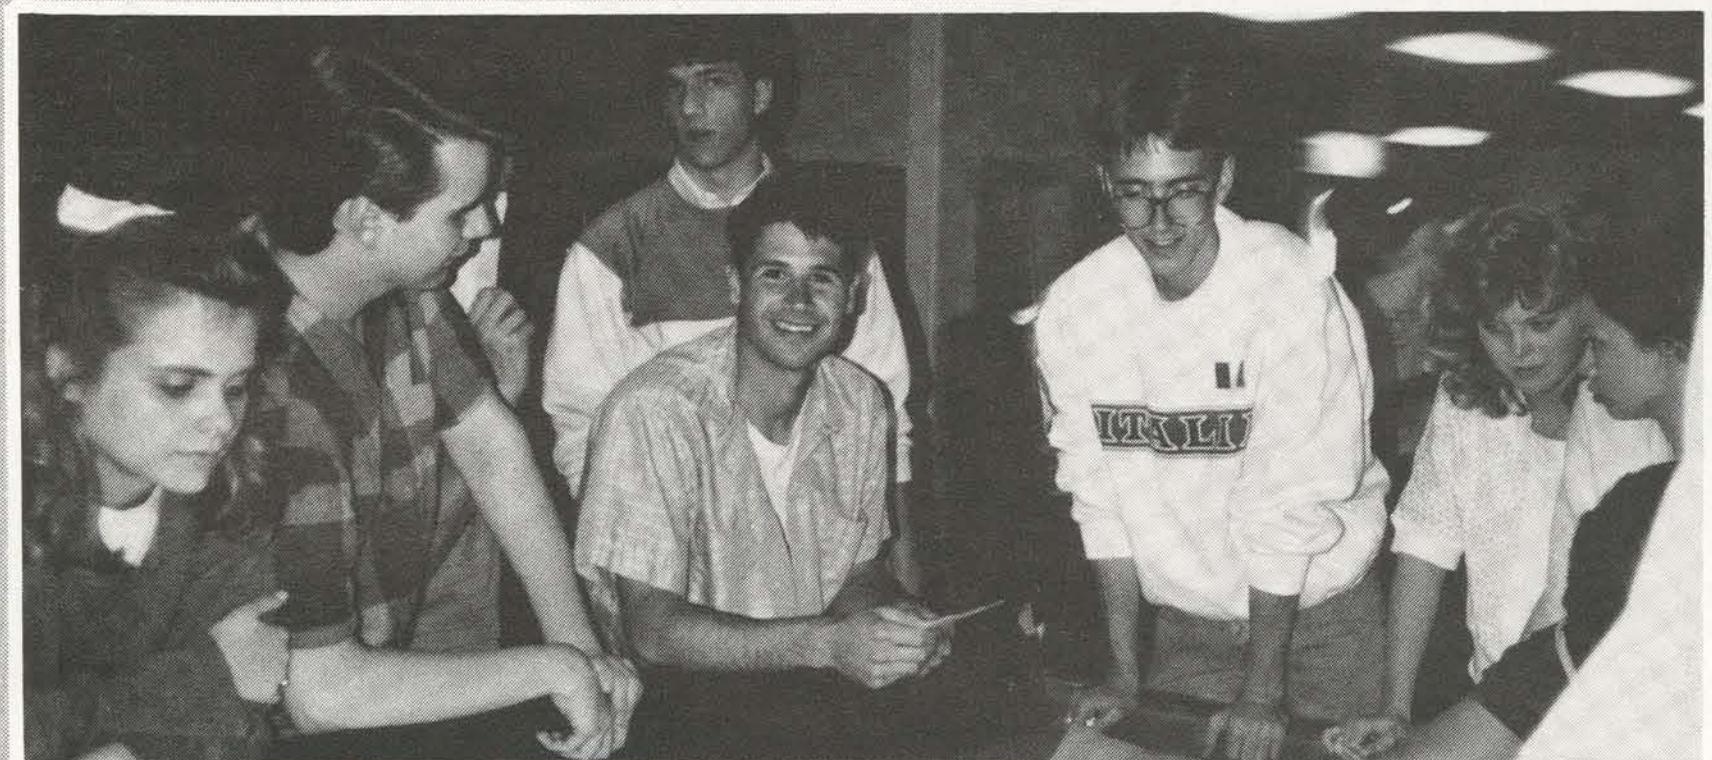

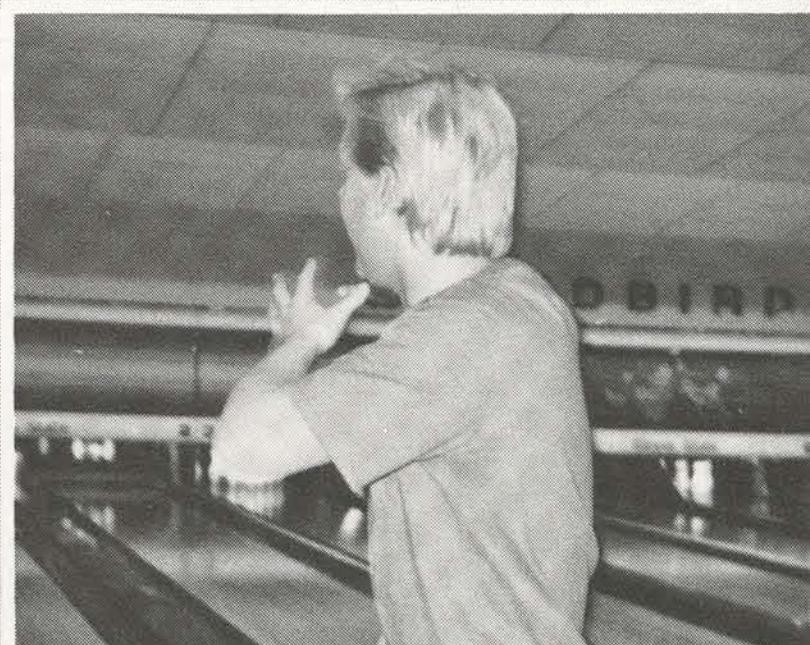

The traditional after prom party was held, once again, at Illinois State University's Bowling and Billiards center from 1 to 4 p.m. The party was sponsored and chaperoned by junior class parents and each person had to pay $6.00 to attend.

There were many activities for everyone to participate in such as free bowling and billiards, free football and darts, and the "play money casino". The money won was used for the auction held at the end of the party. There were many nice prizes to be "bought", all donated by the parents.

The after prom party was a fun way to end the evening after a memorable prom.

The juniors have one of the best years in high school. They are no longer underclassmen, but have the clout of the coveted upperclassmen status. Freshman and sophomores, and even some seniors, actually begin to listen to what they have to say. And the juniors may never cease to be amazed by it all, although they might hide their amazement well.

Driver's Education is old news; most spent their summer days paying for their new cars, although few cars were probably new. At U-High it can be said that almost every vehicle can in some way describe its owner, either by the way it looks, the way it drives, or the way it sounds. The parking lot becomes the place to meet for juniors; the underclassmen, who really don't have any reason to be there, might watch enviously anyway.

The junior year has great appeal because although they are treated more like adults, they still have few responsibilities. Most juniors don't seem to appreciate those circumstances, which rarely reoccur in later life.

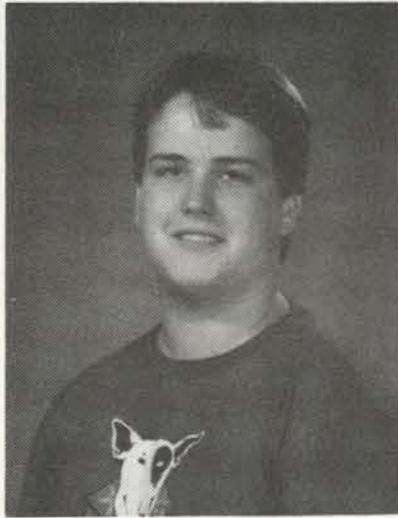

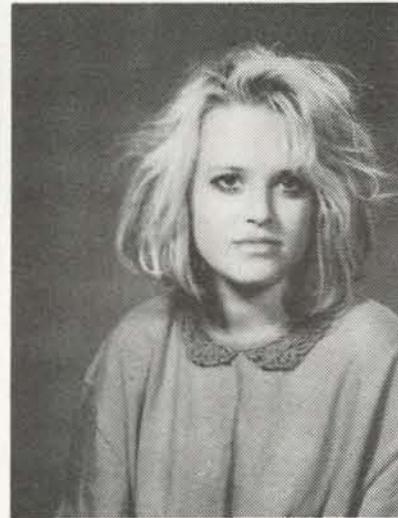

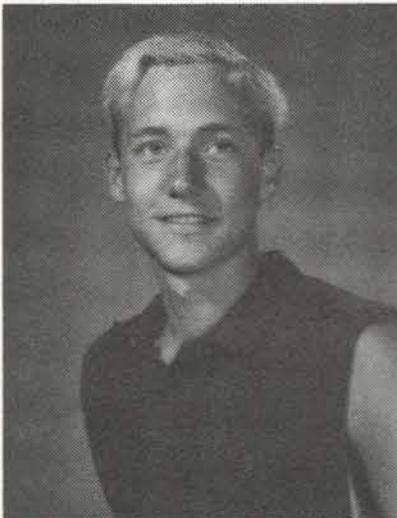

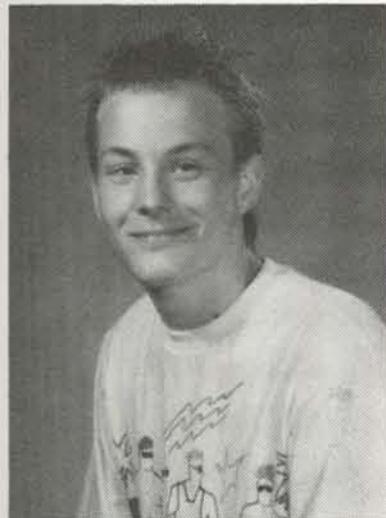

Juniors don't have to worry much about college or "the life after" yet. They do worry about prom, and what group to hire, and endless meetings about endless details. But if they were good sophomores who worked the Student Store to its fullest potential, their meetings about how to pay for it all shouldn't be quite so endless as some of the others.

Classes become extremely important to juniors; some have just realized the all-powerful GPA is just that: important! Some classes are easy, and others may seem so difficult juniors might actually sense their graduation date fading even more rapidly in the distance. But, as in most cases, they prevail. After all, they are upperclassmen now.

Jobs

Do you flip burgers after school? Do you squirt imitation cheese on big pretzels at the mall? Or perhaps you are a Touch Key Professional at the local discount store. Perhaps you sit behind a desk, answer the phone and set up tanning appointments. Or maybe you are skilled enough to spend your evenings as maintenance technician or custodial engineer. Don't laugh, many people need money to purchase insignificant items such as banana clips and ziploc bracelets. Other use their money for necessary things like gas and food. It's not just fast food places that hire high school students though. It seems that teenage employment is all around us. We find students working at clothing stores, movie theaters, and other such places.

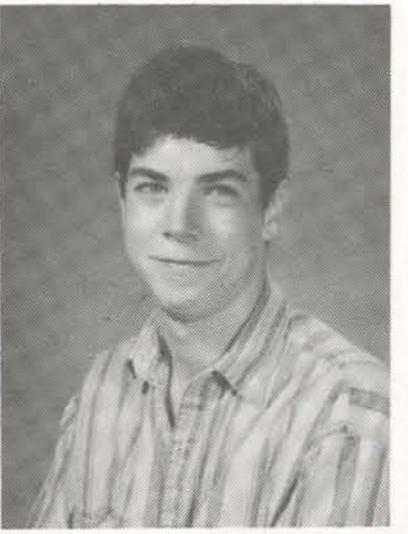

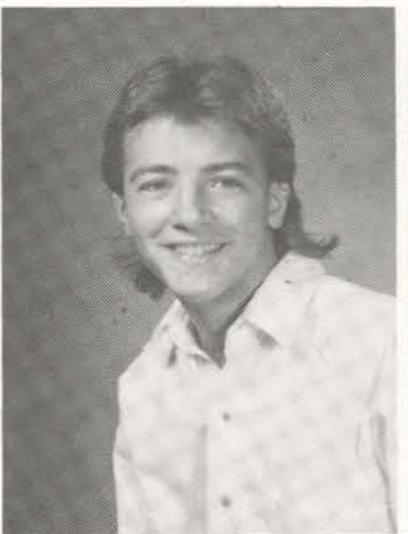

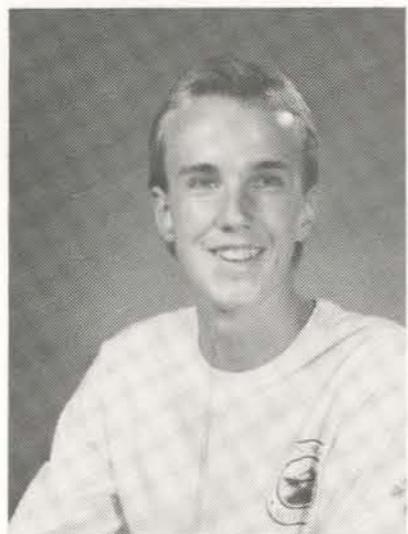

There are reasons other than financial for working. Some do it mainly because their parents "persuade" them to. Others enjoy the social aspects of the working atmosphere. Part-time jobs are ideal for meeting college students, or perhaps older individuals. Some of these friends will remain by you for many years, while others will part as they are fired.

Finally, you will find that jobs are both financially and socially rewarding. Enjoy!

A change usually occurred to students during the summer between the end of a freshman year and the beginning of a sophomore year. The harried freshmen usually began to feel their weight as sophomores.

The average sophomore develops a keen sense of shrewdness by the end of September if he or she is to survive. Most are smart enough to realize they cannot yet mix with the seniors on an equal level, and yet they understand that the new freshmen are fair game. And although many of them, mistreated as freshmen themselves, may have vowed in the New Year's Resolution never to harass another freshman as long as they lived, most of them would deny ever having made such a promise. They had become, after all, sophomores.

Sophomores are a lonely lot. They are no longer the targets, in most cases, of sophomoric actions by upperclassmen. But they are also not considered upperclassmen, which leaves them somewhere out in the middle of the abyss.

Most of their worries deal with how to get money to prepare for prom payments as juniors. But U-High sophomores have a unique money-making venture; they are in charge of selling candy and soft drinks at the Student Store, a.k.a.

Coke Bar.

Although by the end of their year sophomores usually feel they are going nowhere, they still yearn for their junior year, when they will no longer be underclassmen.

Cars

Ah, to drive a car. The freedom it brings can be compared to no other. The wind randomly rearranging your hair. The radio blasting the popular tunes that no one will remember next year. And let's not forget parallel parking. Driving can be a way of releasing all that emotional tension that builds up during the first 16 years of your life.

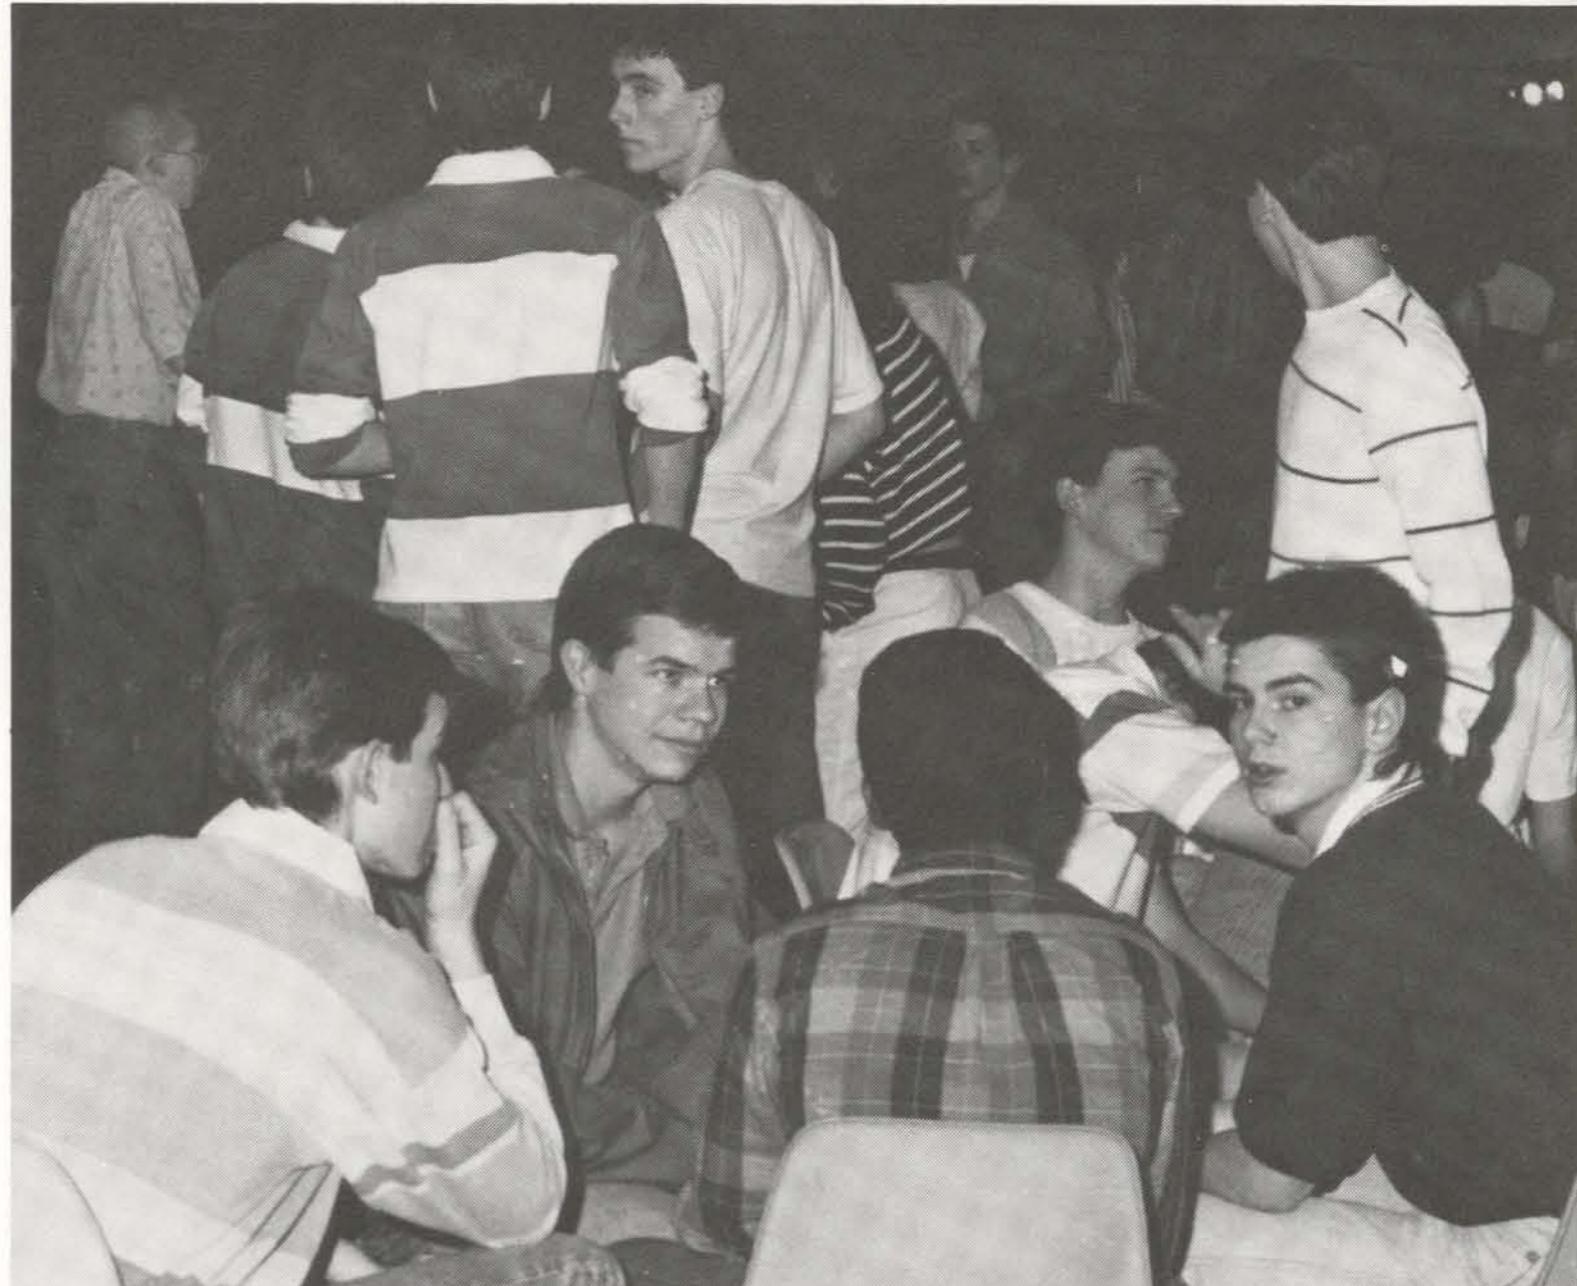

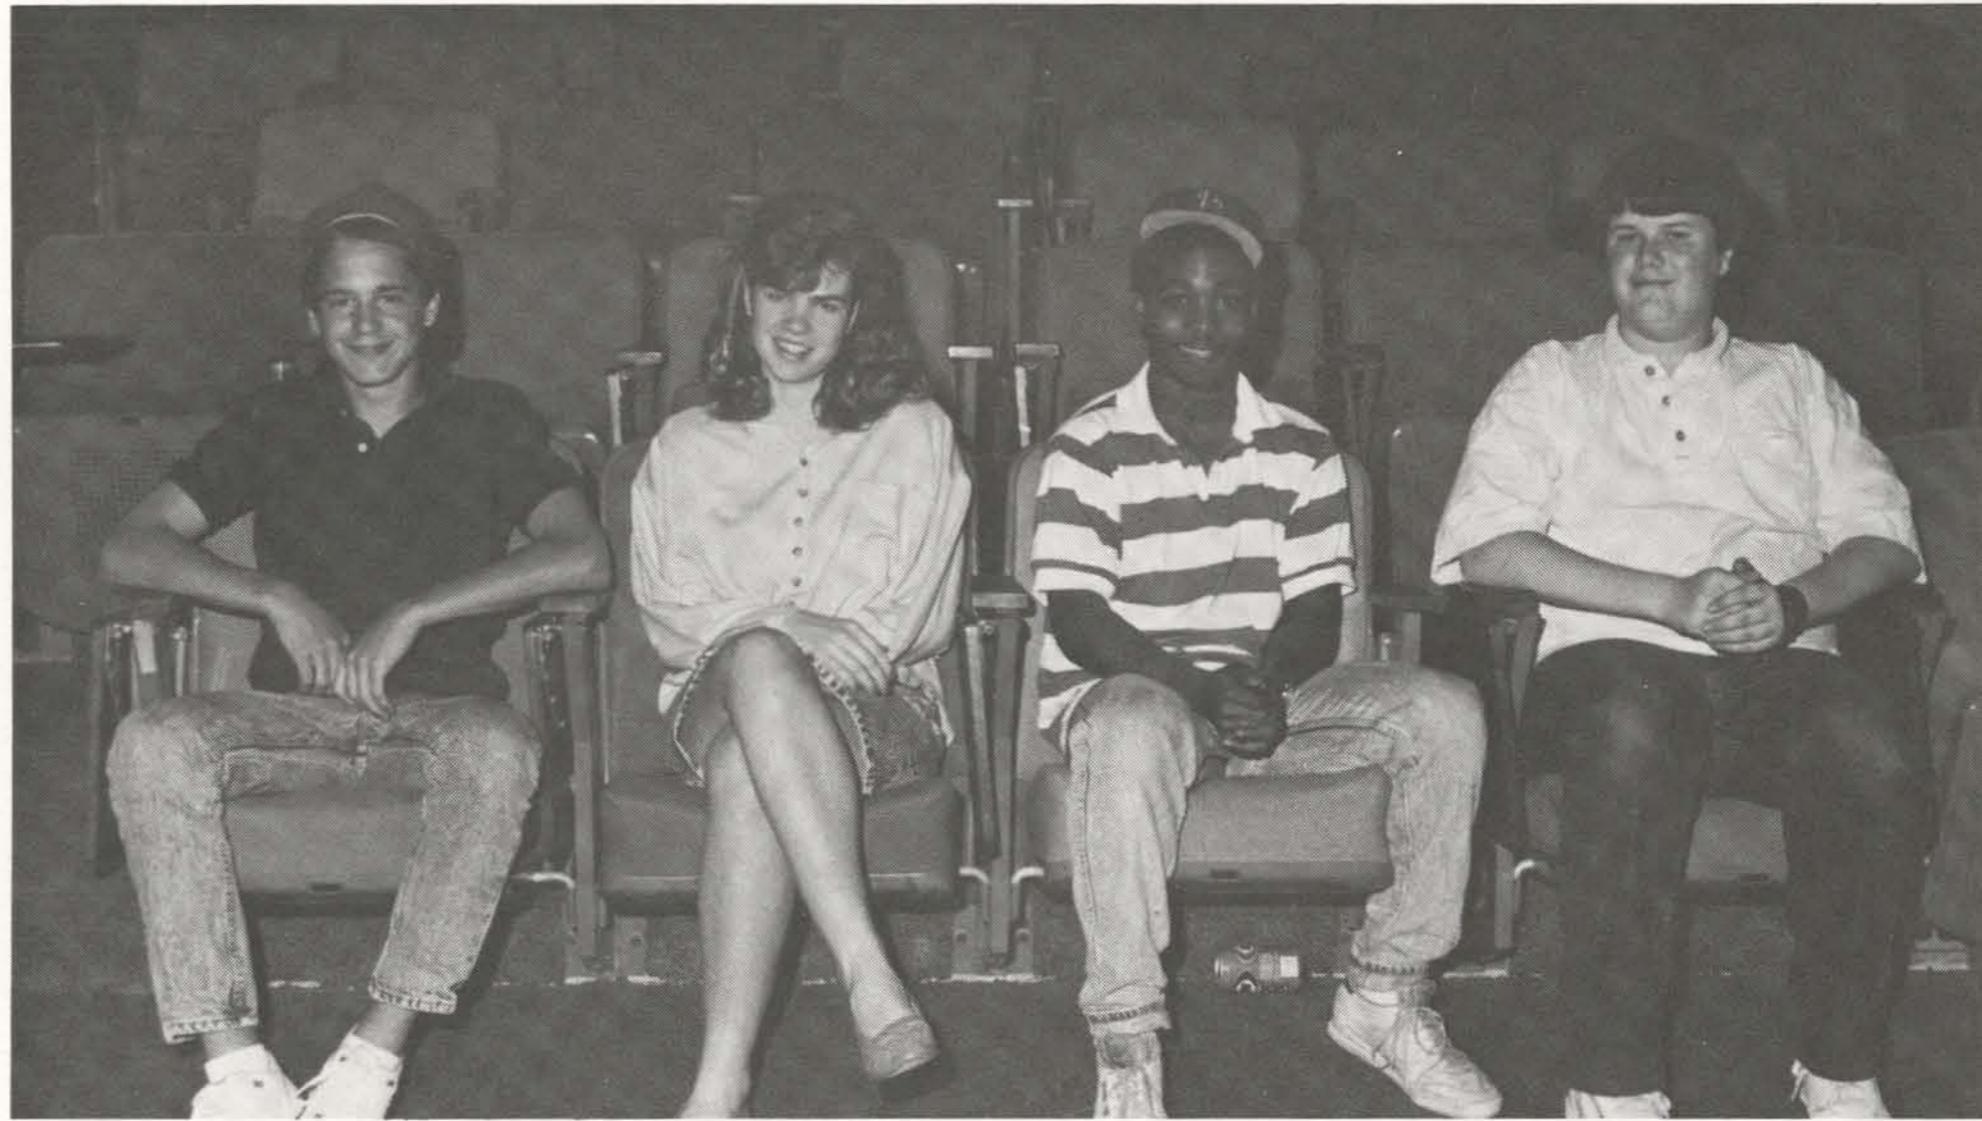

Does the type of car you drive determine your personality? For example, does your car have many dents, suggesting a reckless lifestyle? Perhaps you keep your car in mint condition. This means that you are a neat person. Maybe you have an overwhelming desire for power and control, which explains why you drive a huge boat that takes up four lanes. Or perhaps you drive whatever your parents trust you with.

Maybe you just drive the kind of car that attracts the wrong kind of attention, like the car in the picture to the right. Let's hope that wasn't you.

Part of being a freshman at U-High is the ability to be late for every class the first week of school, simply because they usually have to go on search missions to find their classrooms. Especially when Room 216 is right next to Room 208. Some freshmen may just give up and go home that first day, hoping to come back for a fresh start tomorrow, compass and excuse in hand.

Inbetween trying to find classes and learning what the term "open campus" means, freshmen were also the most often harried students in school. Just because they were freshmen.

Being a freshman in 1987, however, meant undergoing a few changes from tradition. The students were introduced to the PHASE Program, initiated to help ease freshmen's usual fears and concerns of entering high school. Before school started, all the freshmen were given a tour through the school and were introduced to many of their new classmates for an easier transition. This year's freshmen KNEW where everything was; the fact that Room 216 was next to 208 did not bother them in the least. There was a look of enlightenment on the freshmen faces that perhaps was not so evident in past freshmen faces.

The "new" freshmen also took charge in 1987 and 1988, winning second place in hall decoration during Homecoming Week. The male cheerleaders rated well in competition at the pep assemblies, too. Freshmen beat out the other three classes in a competition for collecting cans for the needy, which was held during a Spirit Week Dance.

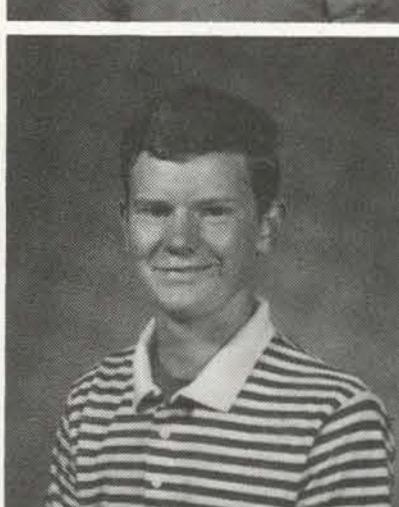

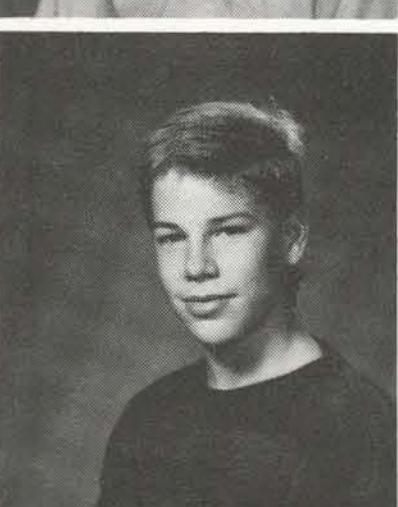

The freshmen accepted the situation of their being freshmen well. They still could never yell very loud at pep assemblies, but they held themselves well.

Meaningful Artwork?

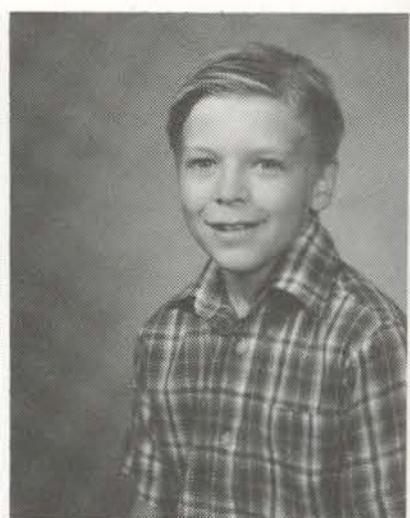

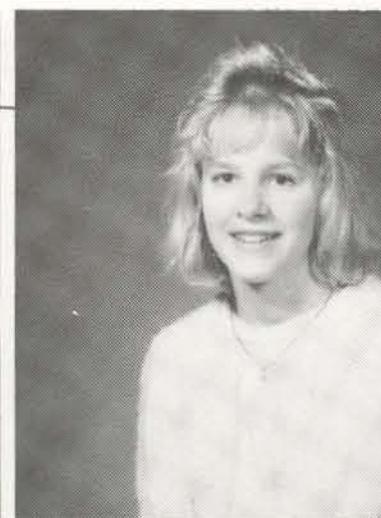

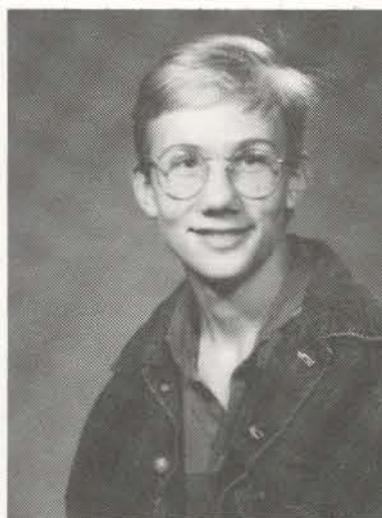

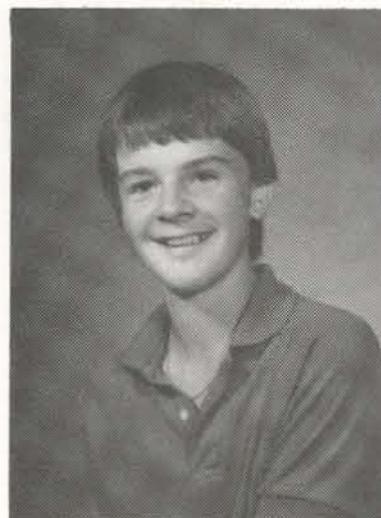

Are you afraid to open your locker? Or are you the type of person with an additional shelf and note pad to help organize your materials? Does your locker have writing on the outside?

Some people cover the insides of their lockers with pictures they find meaningful, such as Kirk Cameron, River Phoenix, and Madonna. Others use fancy cars, animals, and old Sports Illustrated covers. Magnets, family photos, old M & M wrappers, and moldy lunches, contact paper, mirrors, notebooks, textbooks, paperback books, hardcover books, magazines, pens, pencils, markers, walkmans, tapes, and other things are necessary to help one make it through a difficult day at school. Then there are the choice few who are just too busy to decorate their lockers at all. These are the ones who concentrate on grades, extracurricular activities, and other more worthwhile events like T.V. viewing.

Statebound

Two years of inexperience paid off in a big way as the Pioneers, for the second time, made it to the state playoffs.

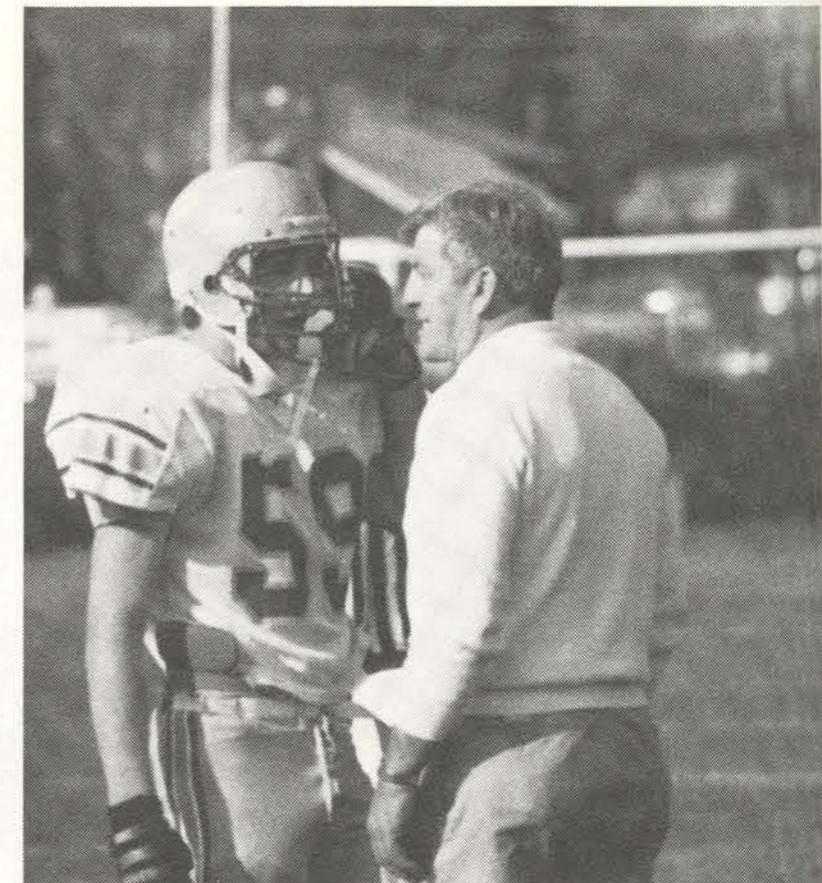

The Pioneers, who had at least 20 returning lettermen, had high hopes all season for a playoff berth at the end of the road. That road had a lot of hills to overcome along the way, though, but the Pioneers prevailed as they knocked off the Number 1, 2, 3, and 4 ranked teams before ending their season ranked in the state's Elite 8.

The Pioneers were led all year by the dynamic backfield duo of Tad Lewis and Brian Beverly; together they gained over 2,000 yards.

The U-High team, who were 6-1 in conference play when they met Central for the conference championship and won, ended their season with a record of 8-4.

The Pioneers get psyched.

Fourth In State

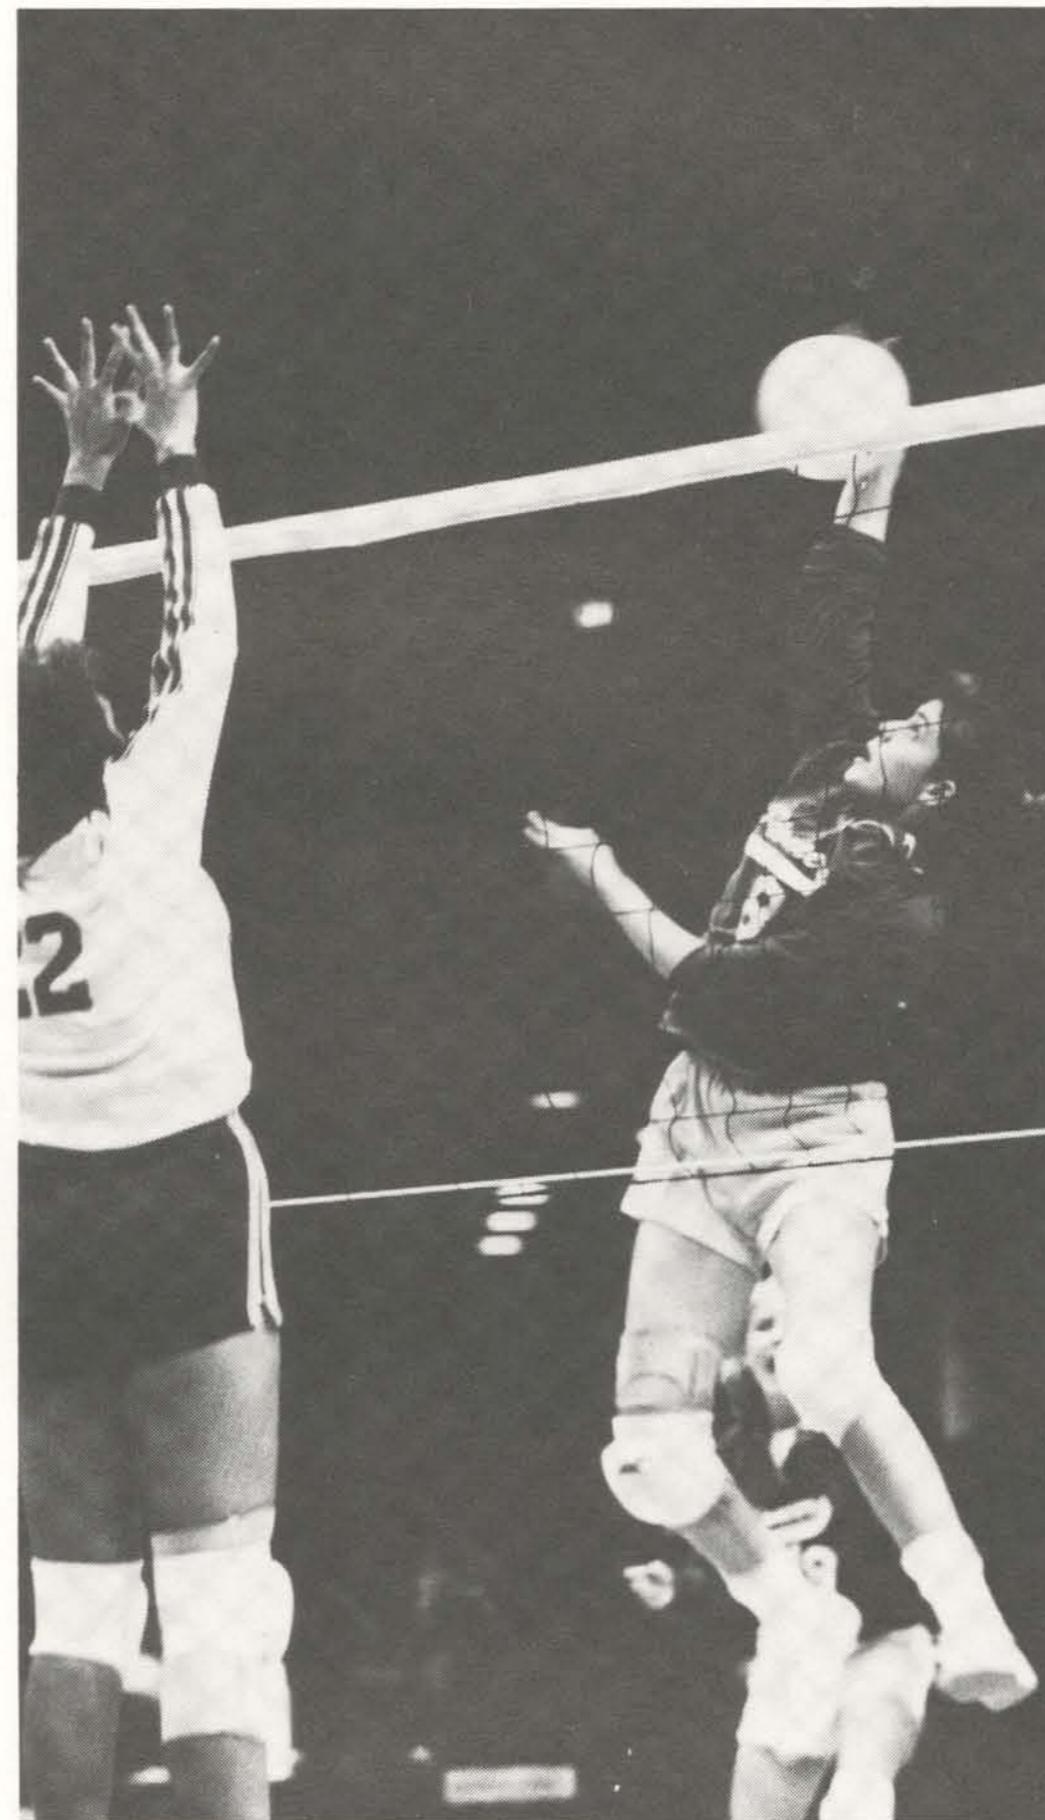

This year's volleyball team ended its season with a 25-9-1 record and a state trophy.

The ladies won their regional by beating Wapella, Pontiac, Tri-Valley, and Lexington, and went on to beat the Number 1 state team, Eureka, in three sets.

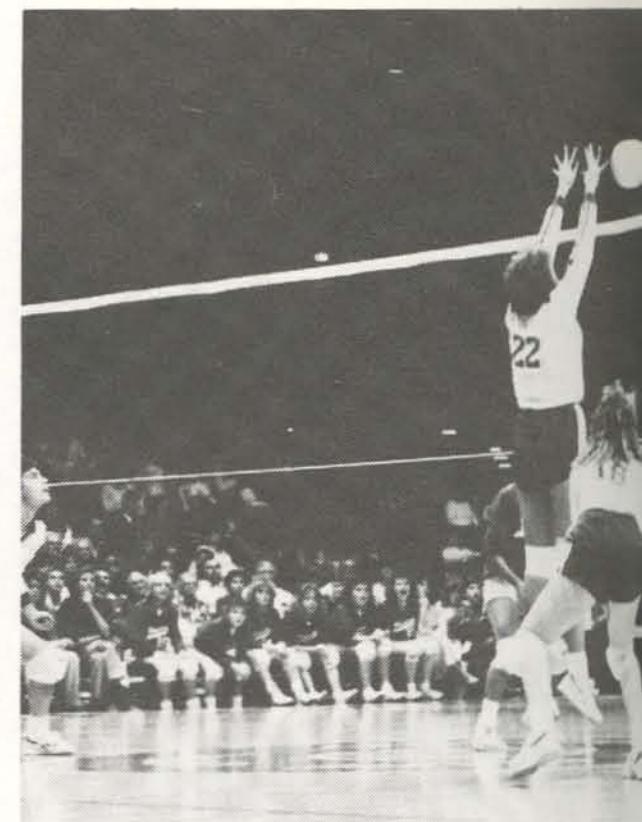

They cruised by Tremont in the sectional finals, and in the super-sectional, the Lady Spikers ran into a tough Cissna Park, but prevailed in three sets to gain a place in the state tournament.

In the quarter-finals U-High eliminated Hume-Shiloh in two sets: 15-13, 15-11. In the semi-finals the ladies went up against the would-be state champions and couldn't get on track, losing in two sets: 1-15, 5-15.

The loss put them in the third place bracket, where they lost to Mendota in three sets, 15-9, 8-15, 6-15, to end their season with the fourth place trophy.

Lisa Raimondi spikes.

History Made!

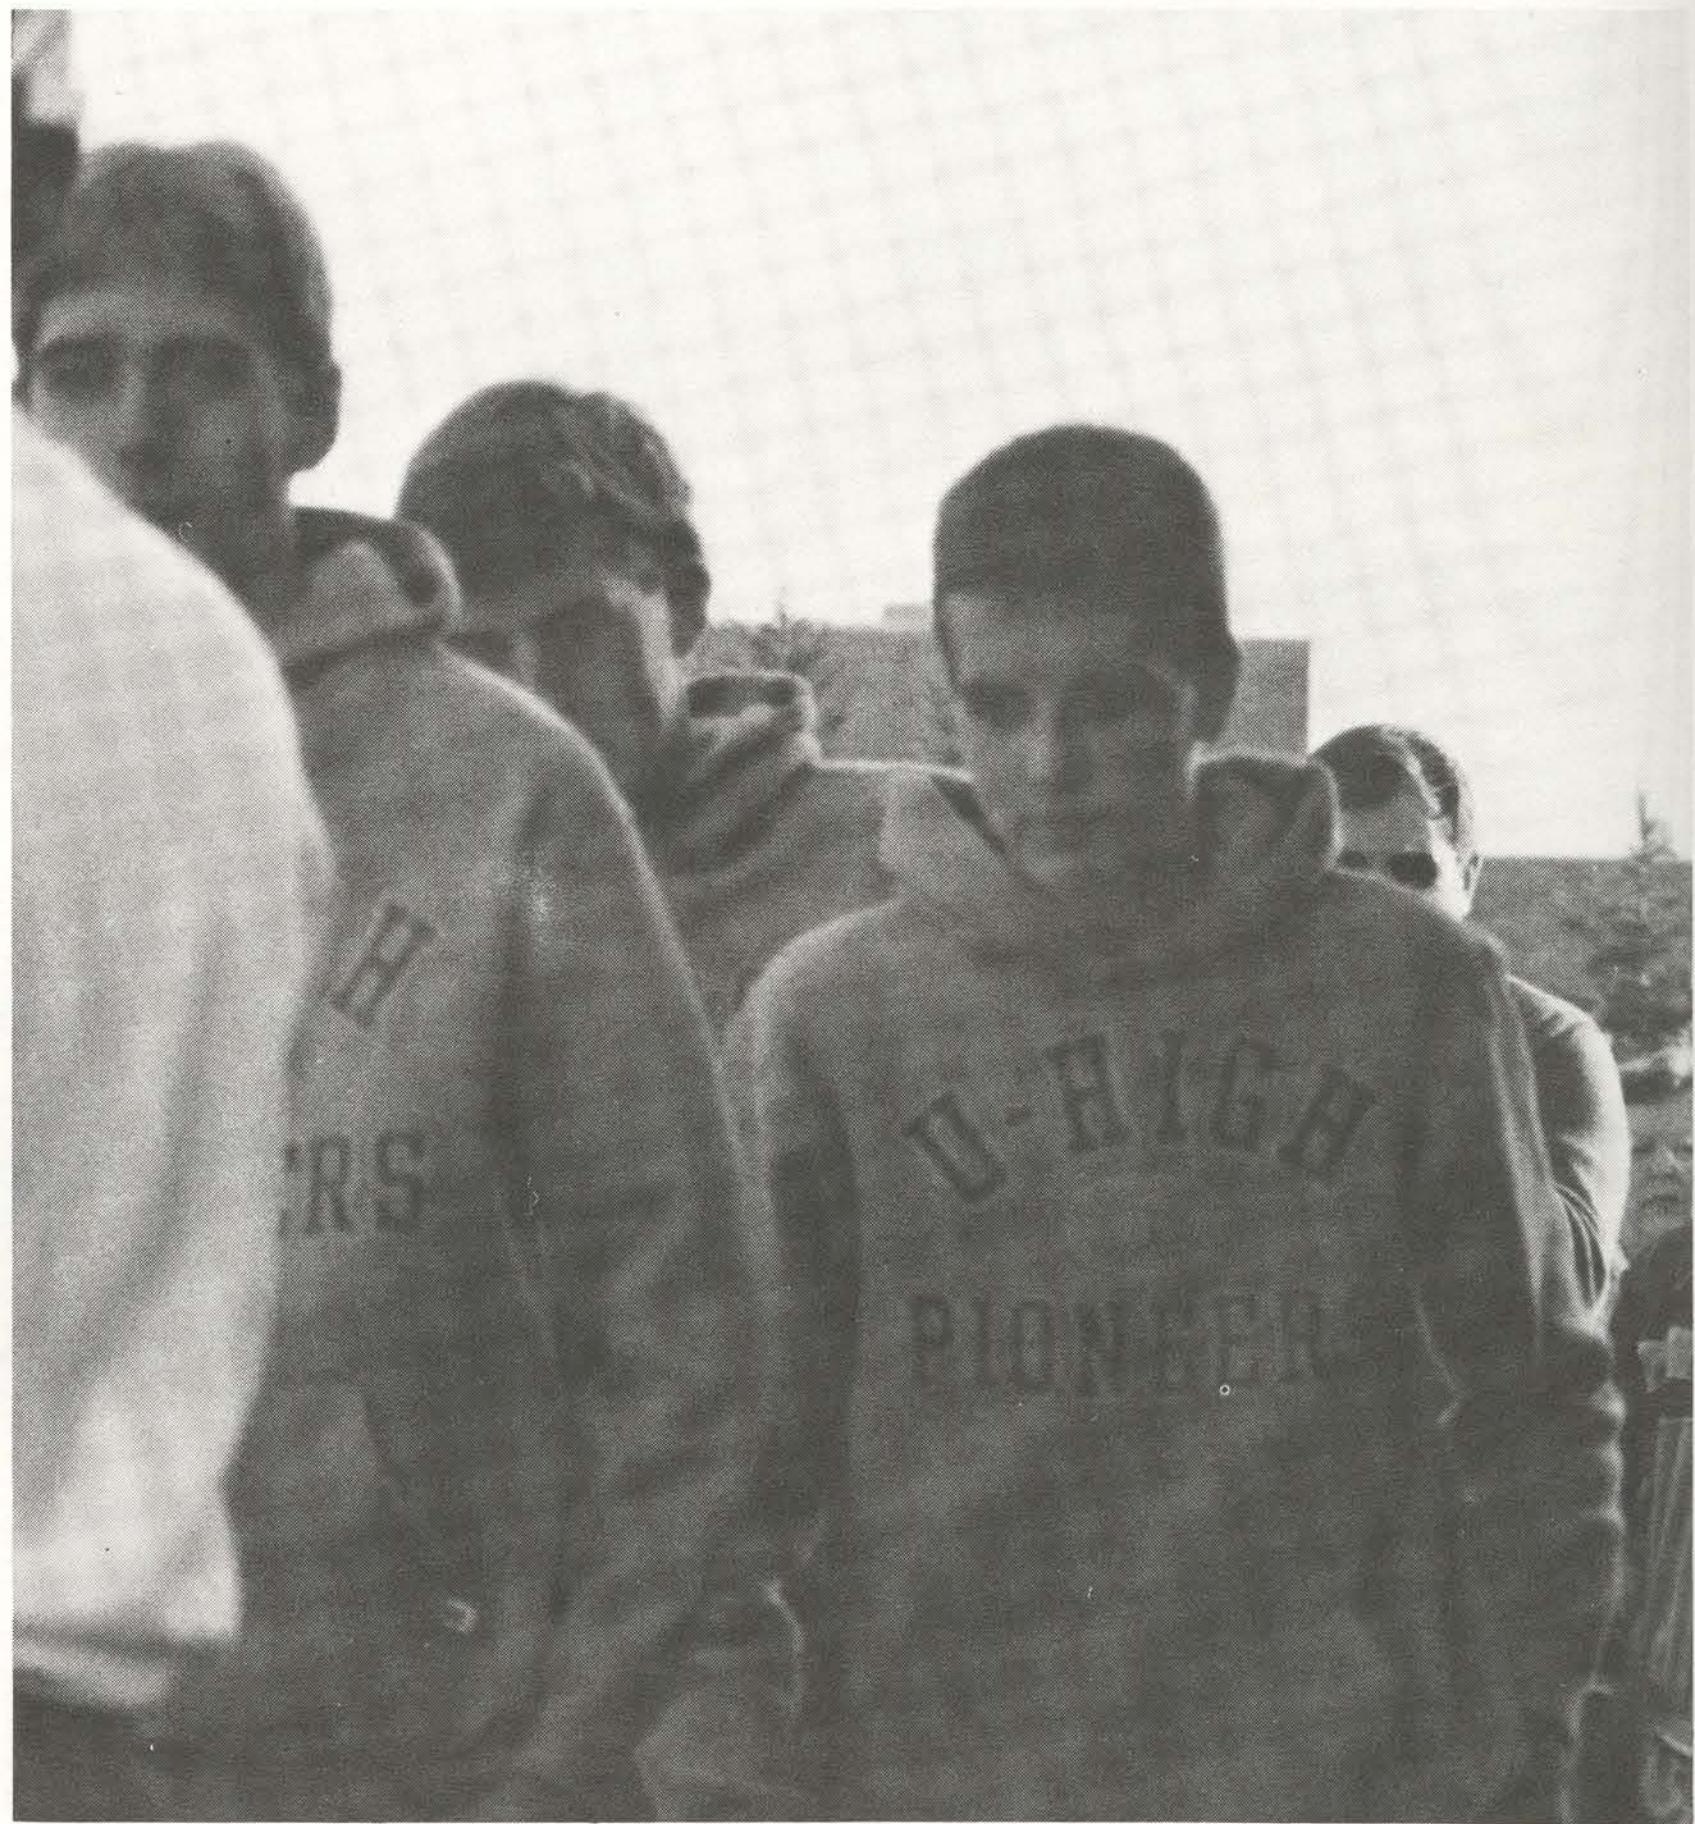

The cross country team placed 19th in the state meet, marking the best finish in U-High history.

The Pioneers finished with a 8-3 record. The team placed second in the Corn Belt Conference, third at the U-High Invitational, and won the Regional title on their home course.

Captain Josh Favus was named Most Valuable Player after placing 18th individually in State.

State Runnerup

For the second year in a row the U-High golfers were the second best in the state.

The Pioneers finished the regular season with a 16-1 record before heading into regional action at Mahomet. The Pioneers won their regional and then earned the right to play in the state meet after winning the sectional title on their home course at ISU.

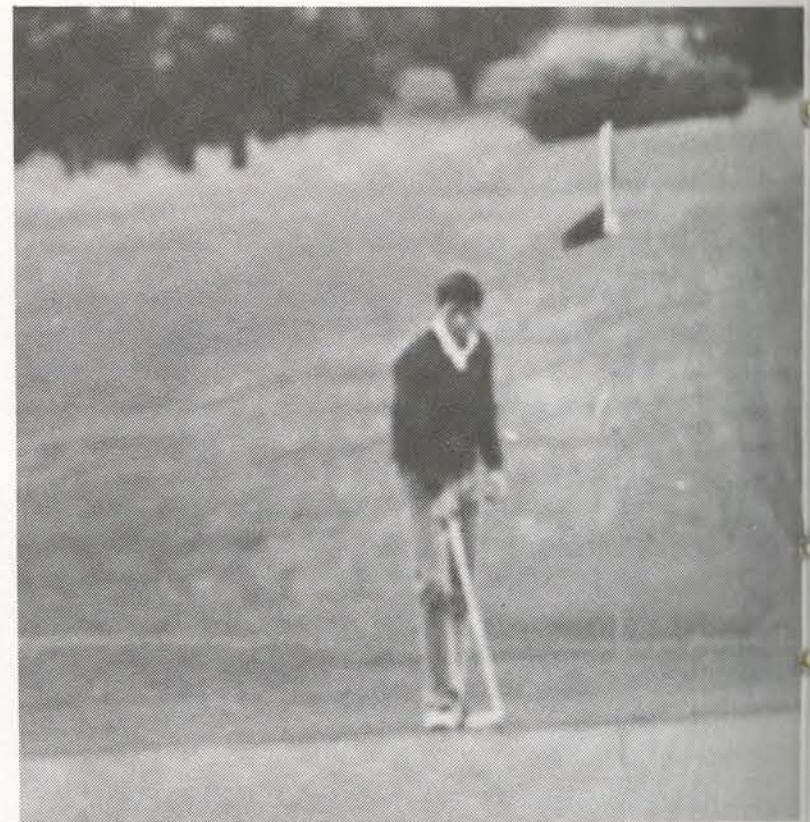

After the first day of competition at Arrowhead Golf Course in Chillicothe, Monmouth High school established a state record for the course. U-High hung on to second place with Dunlap and Nashville close behind.

U-High was led by senior Dave Coffman, who tied for ninth place, and senior Bob Kauth, who placed fifteenth. The other members of the state qualifying team included: Dan Kim, Nick Slayor, Mark DeVary and Tom Ocheltree.

Pioneers Repeat As Conference Champs

The basketball team ended its season a little earlier than they wanted, with an impressive record of 19-7 and a disappointing loss to the Central Catholic Saints in the regional championship.

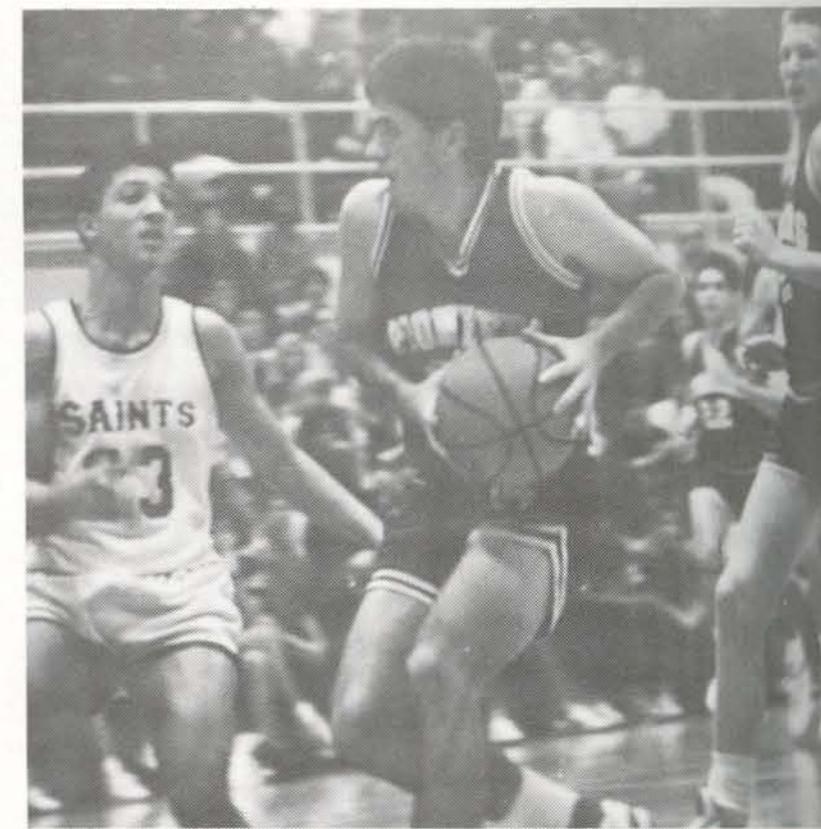

The season had its highs and lows, the highs being taking the Championship at the Sterling Newman Tournament, only losing one game at home and keeping the Corn Belt Conference Trophy at U-High, while the lows being bumped out of post season play so early.

The team was led by All-Stater Mike Kotarba who was also named to all-conference and all-area teams and was the MVP of the Corn Belt Conference with a 18.0 point average. Jim O'Connor and Kris Scholer were also on the all-conference team.

Lady Cagers Win 11

The girls' basketball team ended their season when they were upset in the first round of regional play by Chenoa. U-High finished with 11 victories and 14 defeats despite averaging 47 points per game, and their opponents 45 per contest.

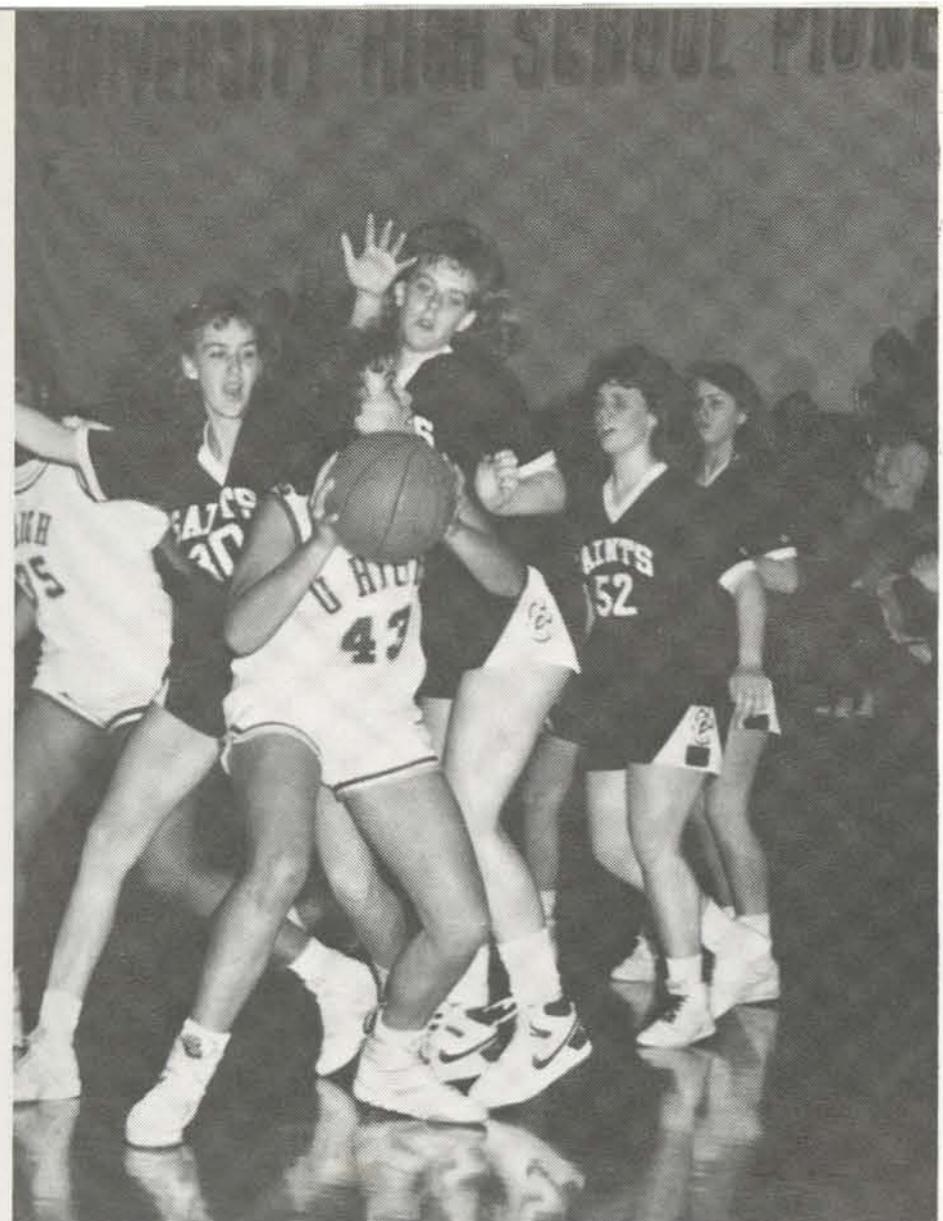

Leading the team in scoring with 11 points per game, was Kati Crist, followed by Salima Dhanani and Stacy Knight with ten points an outing. Kelly Christenson and Jody Gordon chipped in six points per game. Rounding out this year's team was Beth Jurgelas, Judy Patkunas, Sally Lawson, Sue Phelan, Lynette Wagner and Billie Jo Sterling.

Youthful Team Led By Martin's 24 Wins

The U-High Pioneer wrestling team finished off the season with a dual meet record of 7-10. It was not the greatest record in the world, but with a lack of experience and number of people not even coach Jack Eddy expected the team to win more than two matches.

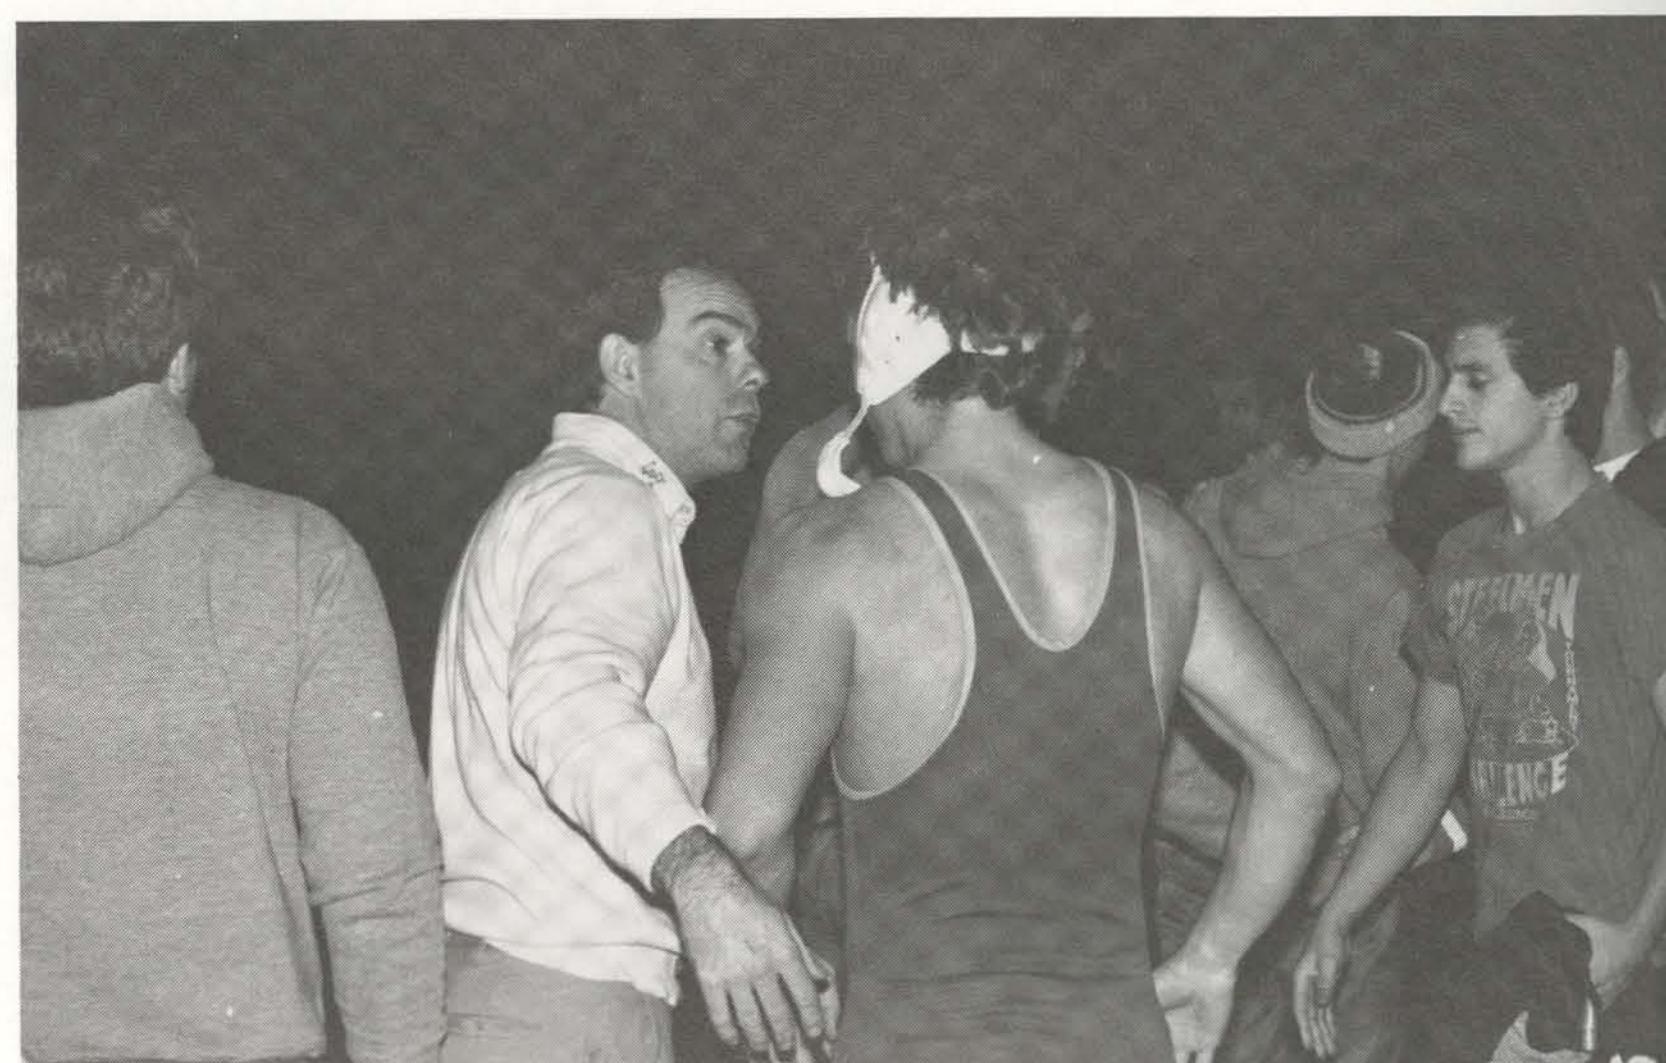

This year's team was led by the experience of three seniors: Paul Martin at 167, Mike Sutton at 138, and Kevin Kiesewetter at Hwt. The team had two very impressive victories. One was over state power Illini Bluffs which was ranked 10th in state at the time. The other big victory was over a very good Mt. Zion which was given honorable mention in class "AA" state.

Martin paced the team with a 24-6 overall record and a sectional berth but failed to advance to the state tournament held in Champaign. Two other wrestlers made it to the sectional tournament: junior Chris Yeagle who just missed qualifying for state by placing 4th at 112 and freshman Doug Wilken at 105.

Although the Pioneers only got three members out of regionals, junior Brian Nourie and sophomore Shaun Saunders just barely missed qualifying for the sectionals.

Swimmers Impressive

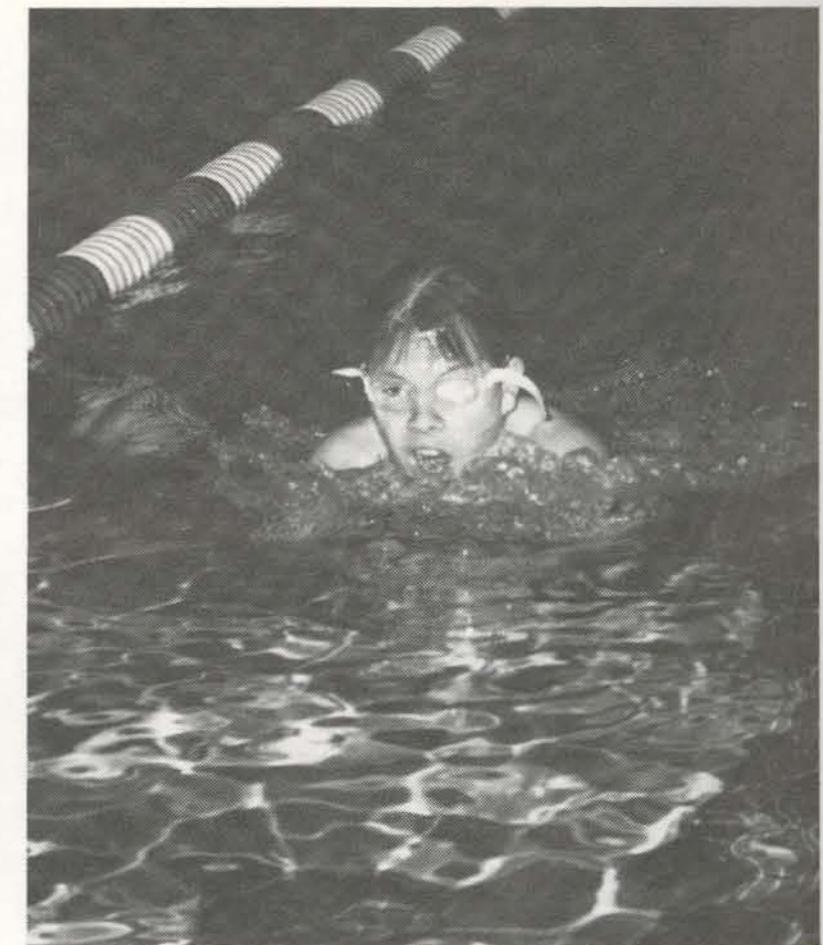

The boys' swim team shocked a lot of people this year with only six swimmers and two divers posting an impressive 5-4 record.

Although the smallest class A school there, they captured sixth place in Peoria at the Ram's Relays. A sixth place was captured at the sectional meet.

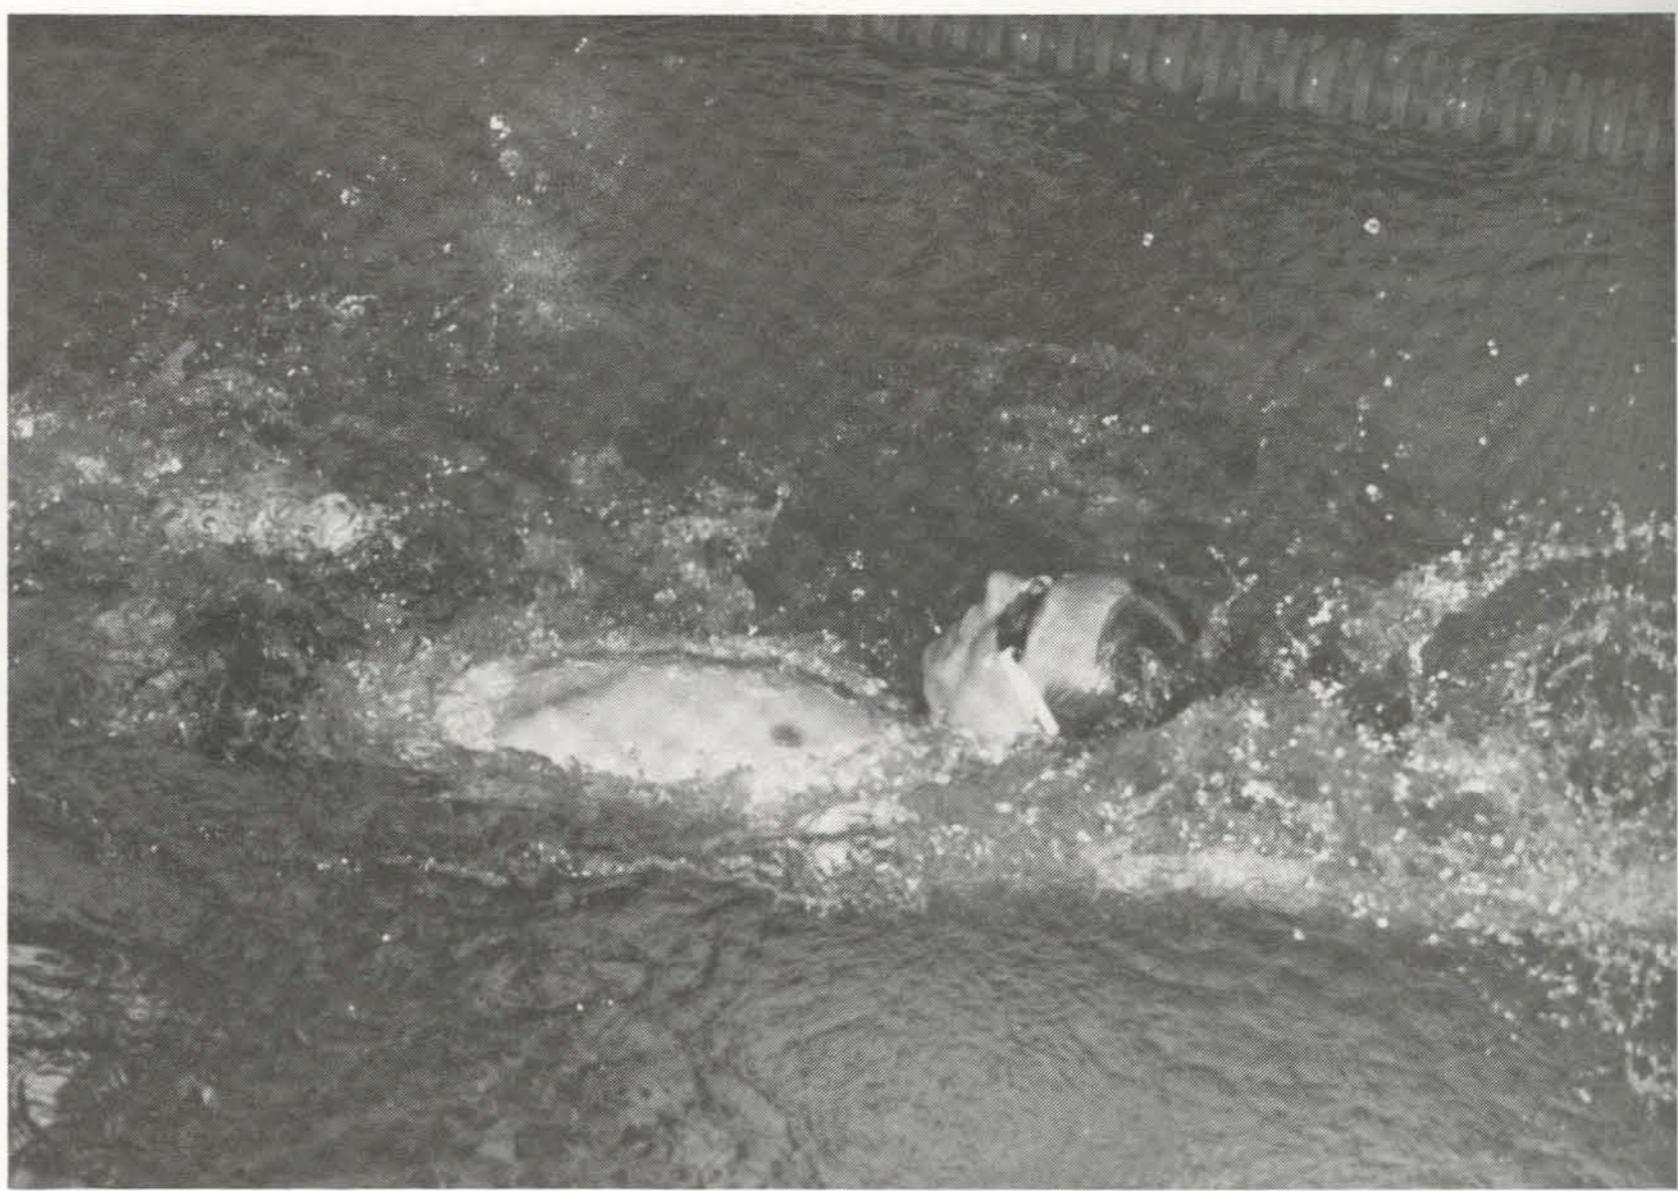

Junior B.J. Armstrong advanced to the state meet in the 200 individual medley. Every member received a varsity letter and according to freshman Sean McPeak, they will be "much better next year, because we will return seven of our eight lettermen."

Regional Winner

University High School's baseball team found its way to the 1988 state sectional tournament and ended the season with a 13-11 record after losing to Momence in first round sectional play.

Senior co-captain Bob Kauth said at mid-season: "We've been real close in all of our games but just couldn't get over the hump." But the Pioneers kept hitting, and found a regional championship along the way by beating Gibson City in the finals.

Besides winning Regionals, the baseball team also came in fourth in conference play.

18 Victories

The softball ladies, coached by Charleen Lehnens, sparkled with an impressive 18 wins this season.

The team also displayed their winning spirit when they finished with an 8-2 Cornbelt record, placing 2nd in conference play.

The intensity of first-seeded U-High was evidenced throughout the season, as well as in the Tri-Valley Class A Regional opener, when the Pioneers downed Flanagan 10-0. Central Catholic shared Flanagan's fate, getting blitzed 7-0 by the Pioneers. The Ladies succumbed to errors in the championship game against Prairie Central, losing a very close contest, 3-2.

First team all conference players chosen were Kelly Christenson as pitcher and Salima Dhanani at first base. Players making second team were Salli Lawson at second base, and Kati Crist and Cheryl Phillips in outfield.

Thirteenth In State

This year's boys' track team began slowly at Cogdal Relays due to members out because of injuries. Some of the members, however, had quite impressive performances.

The team dominated area schools in competition at dual meets, and captured the Master's Relays at NCHS; they placed second at the Intercity meet, won at the Clinton Carnival, and placed first at sectionals. They finished with a 13th placing in State.

Cornbelt Conference play proved to be a winning time for the track team as well, as they captured first place.

Watching outcomes anxiously.

The sidelines are often as busy as the track.

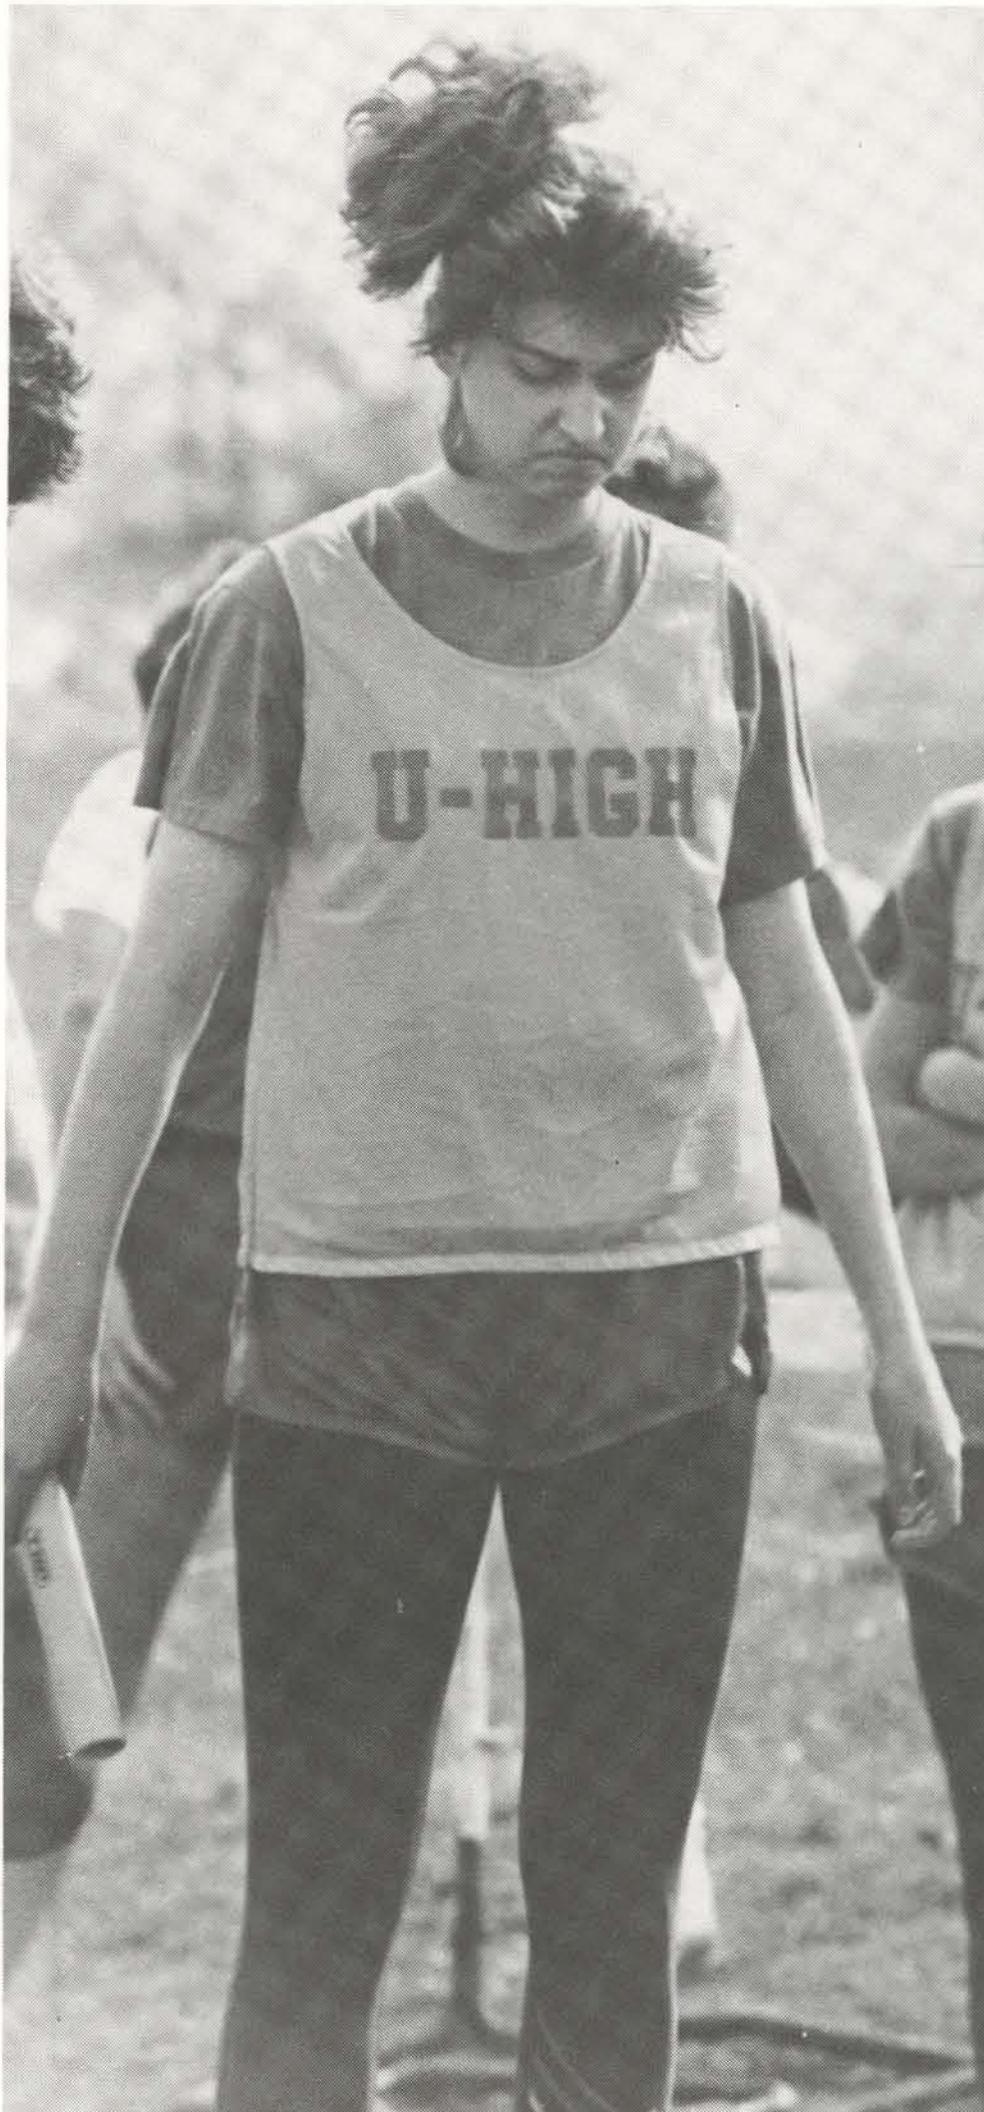

Third In Sectional

This year's girls' track team, headed by Coach Luanne Thompson, finished their season with an 8-5 record.

During their winning season, there were many individual qualifiers for state action. In the state medley relay, which placed 13th, Linnaea Schroeder, Rebecca Bryant, Renee Roberts, and Erin Malone participated. In the 400 meter run, Rebecca Bryant placed 18th. On the honor roll, the Medley Relay placed second, and Rebecca Bryant ran the 400 meter to earn fifth place.

The team also placed fourth in conference play, gained third place in the Clinton Carnival, and achieved third in sectionals.

Tennis Betters Record

This year's boys' tennis team brought returning lettermen seniors Bruce Krieg and Steve Methner, and juniors Kevin Laub and Chuck Chow back to the courts.

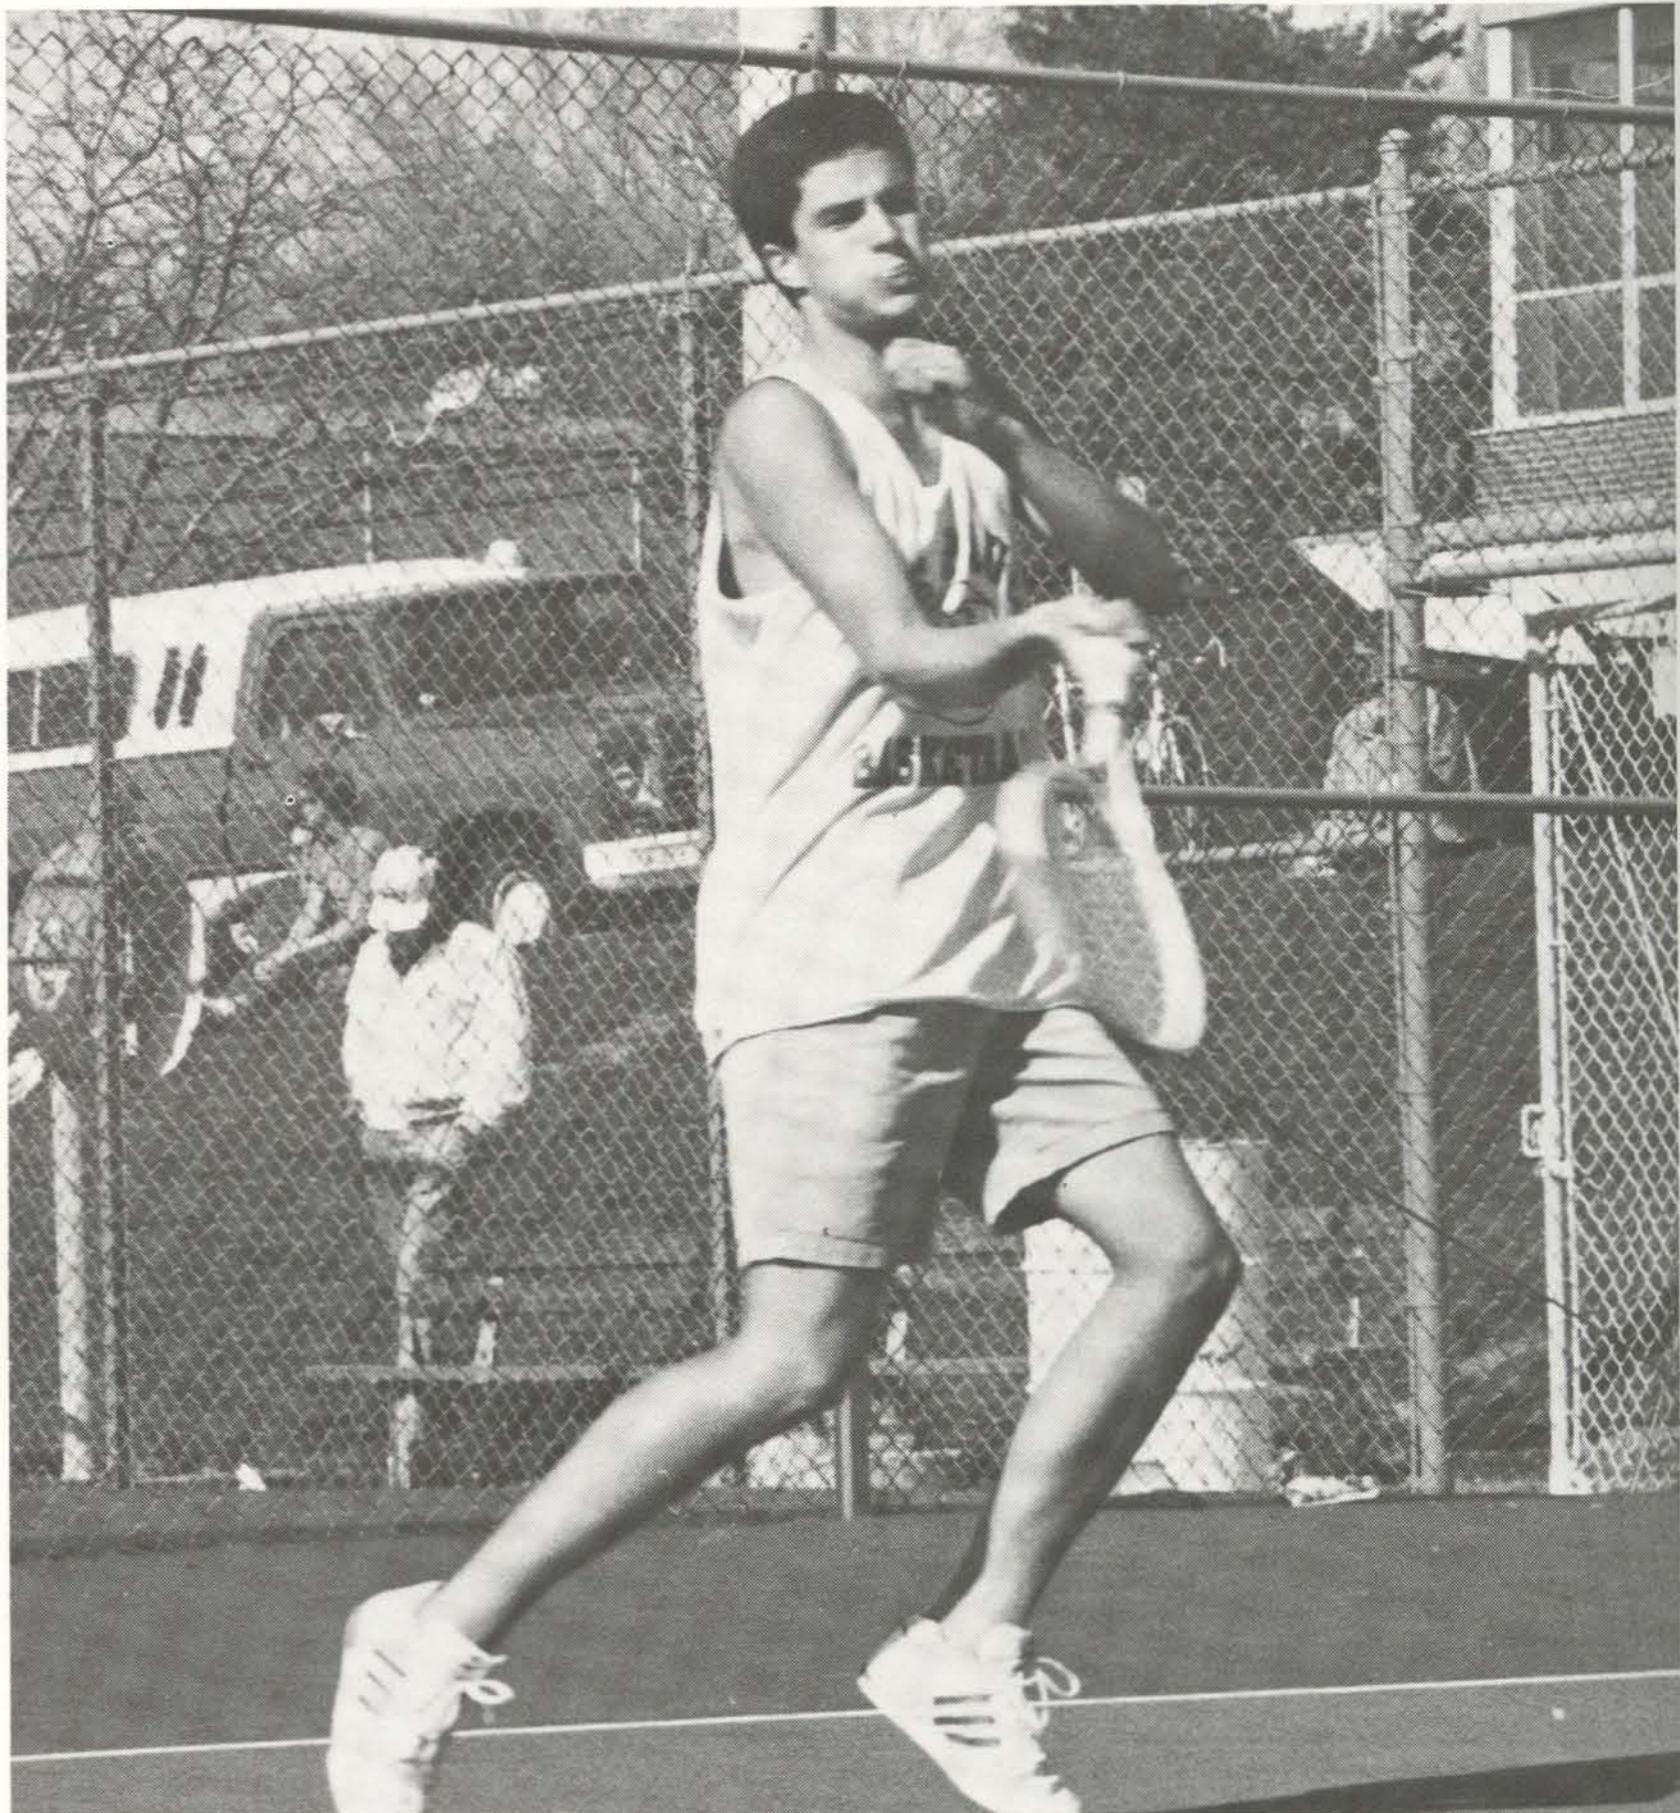

Other varsity members included: Erik Anderson, Brad Long, and Jason MeEvers.

The sophomores included: Dan Kim, Bill Hall, Tad Lewis, and Fred Freehill. Rounding out the team were freshmen John Malito and Luke Vibral.

The team finished its season with a 4-7 record.

Editors' Note

Let's start by saying that, through our efforts, we hope this is the best yearbook U-High has ever seen.

This year started off a little shaky with only 3 experienced staff members. Since yearbook and newspaper were combined in a class instead of being extra-curricular activities, it was a very new experience for everyone. Students learned the routine of frantically meeting deadlines and staying ahead of schedule.

We are very happy with our book; we enjoyed putting it together and we hope you have as much fun reading it.

Co-Editors-in-chief
Krista & Melanie

P.S. We especially would like to thank Jon Kauffman for putting up with us and coming to help us when we needed him, and to Miss Marshall for her willingness to see our side and all the time and dedication she gave to help us.
